Encyclopedia of Television Horace Newcomb, 2014-02-03 The Encyclopedia of Television second edition is the first major reference work to provide description history analysis and information on more than 1100 subjects related to television in its international context For a full list of entries contributors and more visit the Encyclopedia of Television 2nd edition website Not Your Mother's Vampire Deborah Wilson Overstreet, 2006-08-15 Examining young adult vampire fiction and how it fits in both the contemporary and classic vampire canon the book's analysis begins with a primer on vampire scholarship including a brief deconstruction of ten seminal vampire representations five literary five cinematic and their impact on young adult vampire novels the evolution of vampires from scary Gothic enemies into postmodern sexualized heroes is traced throughout the book and the influence of Anne Rice's Vampire Chronicles. Subsequent chapters examine current young adult vampire novels from such popular horror authors as Amelia Atwater Rhodes, Christopher Pike, R. L. Stine, Darren Shan, and L. J. Smith and are divided into three categories based on narrative structure: the process of turning into a vampire, humans and vampires trying to find their way in life and romantic relationships with a vampire partner. Analysis also addresses vampire conventions, the traditions that exist in each vampire universe, vampires and sexuality, and good and reluctant vampires. The human characters who coexist with vampires in these novels receive the same treatment. Additionally, issues of gender, age, and affectional orientation of human and vampire characters are discussed, as are postmodern constructions of good and evil. Not Your Mother's Vampire contains an exploration of Buffy the Vampire Slayer, a television phenomenon which has sparked an entirely new academic field, Buffy Studies. The vampire characters on Buffy and parallel series Angel are explored, as are a few main human slayers and witches alike. The final chapter of the book is an annotated bibliography of seminal vampire scholarship. As the only in-depth examination of young adult vampire novels in existence, this book is essential for students and scholars of the literature.

Joss Whedon David Lavery, Cynthia Burkhead, 2011-03-29. No recent television creator has generated more critical scholarly and popular discussion or acquired as devoted a cult following as Joss Whedon. By 1964, no fewer than thirty books concerned with his work have now been published, and ten international conferences on his work have convened in the U.K., the United States, Australia, and Turkey. Fitting then that this first volume in University Press of Mississippi's Television Conversations Series is devoted to the writer, director, and showrunner who has delivered Buffy the Vampire Slayer (The WB, 1997-2001), UPN (2001-3), Angel (The WB, 1999-2004), Firefly (2002), Dr. Horrible's Sing-Along Blog (Webcast, 2008), and Dollhouse (FOX, 2009-10). If Whedon has shown himself to be a virtuoso screenwriter, script doctor, director, comic book author, and librettist, he is, as well, a masterful conversationalist. As a DVD commentator, for example, the consistently hilarious, reliably insightful, frequently moving Whedon has few rivals. In his many interviews, he likewise shines. Whether answering a hundred rapid-fire, mostly silly questions from fans on the Internet, fielding serious inquiries about his craft and career from television colleagues, or assessing his disappointments, Whedon seldom fails to provoke laughter and reflection.

Dear Diary, Reality Bites! Myka T. Clemens, 2014-01-09. It has always seemed very strange to me that sooooo many people can go through their whole life in a kind of trance. As the saying goes, "They live in the land of Denial I visited there for about thirty years and I must say that when the fog finally lifted it really was a sort of relief No more lying covering up or denying the truth No more delusions of the way that you wish things were and pretending to the world that this is the way that things are I guess it was also saddening how much time was lost and how things could have been different if only you were conscious of them Why do we live a life of lies There are probably as many reasons as there are people We live a lie for love money wealth fame security etc etc We have to play the game of life the way society or our families dictate so as not to disappoint Our whole lives revolve around pleasing others and getting them to accept us Isn't that whole concept a lie I've always hated lying but now I do it on a regular basis I see why people do it because it gets easier over time I can barely tolerate someone who always lies to get what they want or to make themselves seem better than they really are It's one thing to have someone lie to you and you aren't aware of it and it's a whole different thing when you catch someone lying and they won't own up to it That's pretty much IT for me I guess that's why I have some stress issues It takes A LOT of self control to keep yourself from smashing someone in the mouth I read a little saying a while ago which said Sarcasm because it's illegal to beat the shit out of someone I truly love and agree with this
