Animation Paul Wells, 2002 Wells provides an overview of the distinctive language of animation its production processes and the particular questions about who makes it under what conditions and with what purpose The Crash Controversy Martin Barker, Jane Arthurs, Ramaswami Harindranath, 2001 Between 1996-97 an almost unprecedented campaign was mounted in the British press against one film David Cronenberg's Crash What motivated this campaign What can it tell us about British film culture What impact did the campaign have on general audiences This book which draws on a year long investigation supported by the Economic and Social Research Council offers a series of important and challenging findings and is a major contribution to our understanding of censorship campaigns how audiences respond to films and the strategies employed in engaging with such texts The Oxford Handbook of Children's Film Noel Brown, 2022 Offers a comprehensive and wide ranging study of children's film Takes an interdisciplinary approach that encompasses contributions from scholars in the fields of film studies children's education children's media studies children's literature studies animation studies and fandom studies Features an international scope covering iconic films from Hollywood including Disney as well as from Britain France Germany Sweden Norway Hungary Australia China Japan South Korea India Iran and Kenya Includes chapters written from a range of critical approaches to children's film including genre ideology narrative stardom music industry studies and primary research on audiences and reception Book jacket Animation and Memory Maarten van Gageldonk, László Munteán, Ali Shobeiri, 2020-08-20 This book examines the role of memory in animation as well as the ways in which the medium of animation can function as a technology of remembering and forgetting By doing so it establishes a platform for the cross fertilization between the burgeoning fields of animation studies and memory studies By analyzing a wide range of different animation types from stop motion to computer animation and from cell animated cartoons to painted animation this book explores the ways in which animation can function as a representational medium The five parts of the book discuss the interrelation of animation and memory through the lens of materiality corporeality animation techniques the city and animated documentaries These discussions raise a number of questions how do animation films bring forth personal and collective pasts What is the role of found footage objects and sound in the material and affective dimensions of animation How does animation serve political ends The essays in this volume offer answers to these questions through a wide variety of case studies and contexts The book will appeal to both a broad academic and a more general readership with an interest in animation studies memory studies cultural studies comparative visual arts and media studies Chapter Introduction is available open access under a Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 International License via link.springer.com The Fundamentals of Animation Paul Wells, 2006-06 The Fundamentals of Animation by Paul Wells offers an illustrated and visually stimulating introduction to the key elements of animation It discusses the key principles and processes involved in animation exploring the entirety of the creative process from finding and researching a concept through the preparation and techniques used to the execution of the work Each stage is presented in an engaging visual style accompanied by examples and analysis of contemporary student and commercial animation The book also discusses the links between animation and the styles and narratives of other areas of popular culture aligning theory and ideas to practical advice It includes a section for aspiring animators examining career paths portfolios and the structure of the creative industries

The Near-Death of the Author John Potts, 2022-11-01 In the modern world of networked digital media authors must navigate many challenges Most pressing the illegal downloading and streaming of copyright material on the internet deprives authors of royalties and in some cases it has discouraged creativity or terminated careers Exploring technology's impact on the status and idea of authorship in today's world The Near Death of the Author reveals the many obstacles facing contemporary authors John Potts details how the online culture of remix and creative reuse operates in a post authorship mode with little regard for individual authorship The book explores how developments in algorithms and artificial intelligence AI have yielded novels newspaper articles musical works films and paintings without the need of human authors or artists It also examines how these AI achievements have provoked questions regarding the authorship of new works such as Does the author need to be human And more alarmingly Is there even a need for human authors Providing suggestions on how contemporary authors can endure in the world of data the book ultimately concludes that network culture has provoked the near death but not the death of the author

Animated Film and Disability Slava Greenberg, 2023-02-07 While many live action films portray disability as a spectacle crip animation a genre of animated films that celebrates disabled people's lived experiences uses a variety of techniques like clay animation puppets pixilation and computer generated animation to represent the inner worlds of people with disabilities Crip animation has the potential to challenge the ableist gaze and immerse viewers in an alternative bodily experience In Animated Film and Disability Slava Greenberg analyzes over 30 animated works about disabilities including Rocks in My Pockets An Eyeful of Sound and A Shift in Perception He considers the ableism of live action cinematography the involvement of filmmakers with disabilities in the production process and the evocation of the spectators senses of sight and hearing consequently subverting traditional spectatorship and listenership hierarchies In addition Greenberg explores physical and sensory accessibility in theaters and suggests new ways to accommodate cinematic screenings Offering an introduction to disability studies and crip theory for film media and animation scholars Animated Film and Disability demonstrates that crip animation has the power to breach the spectator's comfort evoking awareness of their own bodies and in certain cases their social privileges

Midhat Ajanović,2024-12-19 This book provides a comprehensive account of Croatian animation history as well as an analysis of background factors such as political and social circumstances and cultural heritage that influenced the great international success of Croatian animators between the 1960s and 1980s The book focuses on the history of the Zagreb School of Animated Film which produced dozens of extremely significant animated films between the 1960s and 1980s which constituted an important epoch in the development of film animation as an artistic form It provides a case study of three important films Dnevnik by Nedeljko Dragic Don Kihot by Vladimir Kristl and Koncert za masinsku pusku by Dusan Vukotic
The book also covers modern Croatian animation developed after the independence of the country This book will be of great interest to academics students and professionals working and researching in the field of animation New German

Cinema Julia Knight,2004 Comprising a discussion of Alice in the Cities The Bitter Tears of Petra von Kant Heimat and The American Friend Julia Knight's study examines the American dominance of German film the framework of European art cinema and how German cinema engages with contemporary German reality The Animated Bestiary Paul Wells,2008-11-28 Cartoonists and animators have given animals human characteristics for so long that audiences are now accustomed to seeing Bugs Bunny singing opera and Mickey Mouse walking his dog Pluto The Animated Bestiary critically evaluates the depiction of animals in cartoons and animation more generally Paul Wells argues that artists use animals to engage with issues that would be more difficult to address directly because of political religious or social taboos Consequently and principally through anthropomorphism animation uses animals to play out a performance of gender sex and sexuality racial and national traits and shifting identity often challenging how we think about ourselves Wells draws on a wide range of examples from the original King Kong to Nick Park's Chicken Run to Disney cartoons such as Tarzan The Jungle Book and Brother Bear to reflect on people by looking at the ways in which they respond to animals in cartoons and films

Chinese Independent Animation Wenhai Zhou,2020-04-23 This study of independent animation opens up a quietly subversive and vibrant dimension of contemporary Chinese culture which hitherto has not received as much attention as dissident art or political activism Scholarly interest in Chinese animation has increased over the last decade with attention paid to the conventional media circle of production distribution and consumption The independent sector has been largely ignored however until now By focusing on distinctive independent artists like Pisan and Lei Lei and situating their work within the present day media ecology the author examines the relationship between the genre and the sociocultural transformation of contemporary China Animation the author argues has a special significance as the nature of the animation text is itself multilayered and given to multiple interpretations and avenues of engagement Through an examination of the affordances of this independent media entity the author explores how this multifaceted cultural form reveals ambiguities that parallel contradictions in art and society In so doing independent animation provides a convenient mirror for examining how recent social upheavals have been negotiated and how certain practitioners have found effective ways for discussing the post Socialist reality within the current political configuration Film Dialogue Jeff Jaeckle,2013-06-25 Film Dialogue is the first anthology in film studies devoted to the topic of language in cinema bringing together leading and emerging scholars to discuss the aesthetic narrative and ideological dimensions of film speech that have largely gone unappreciated and unheard Consisting of thirteen essays divided into three sections genre auteur theory and cultural representation Film Dialogue revisits and reconfigures several of the most established topics in film studies in an effort to persuade readers that spectators are more accurately described as audiences that the gaze has its equal in eavesdropping and that images are best understood and appreciated through their interactions with words Including an introduction that outlines a methodology of film dialogue study and adopting an accessible prose style throughout Film Dialogue is a welcome addition to ongoing debates about the place value and purpose of language in cinema Contemporary British and Irish Film Directors Yoram Allon,Del Cullen,Hannah Patterson,2001 The guide encompasses the careers of over 350 directors from the last 20 years A must for any film studies library it is a unique reference to the changing dynamics of these cinemas
