The penicillium notatum is the fungus which antibiotic penicillin was obtained, it was discovered by the French physician David Camacho in 1896, forgotten and rediscovered by Alexander Fleming in 1928, later it was found that other penicillium were better producers of penicillin and penicillium chrysogenum was chosen as the super producing strain of this antibiotic. Finally, the selection of successive super producing mutants and the improvement in fermentation techniques carried out by the biotechnological industry have made it possible to obtain 20 g/l of penicillin. It is used for the treatment of Gram-positive bacteria also in the production of other b-lactam antibiotics and is an allergen and has pathogenic activity however it is uncommon in causing disease in humans.
