Daily Graphic Sam Clegg, 1992-11-13 Research for Educational Change Jill Adler, Anna Sfard, 2016-06-17 Research for Educational Change presents ways in which educational research can fulfil its commitments to educational practice Focussing its discussion within the context of mathematics education it argues that while research generated insights can have beneficial effects on learning and teaching the question of how these effects are to be generated and sustained is far from evident The question of how to turn research into educational improvement is discussed here in the context of learning and teaching hindered by poverty and social injustice In the first part of the book four teams of researchers use different methodologies while analysing the same corpus of data collected in a South African mathematics classroom In the second part each of these teams makes a specific proposal about what can be done and how so that its research generated insights have a tangible beneficial impact on what is happening in mathematical classrooms Combining two discourses that of researchers speaking to one another and that of researchers communicating their insights to those responsible for educational practice the book deals with the perennial question of communication between those who study educational processes and those who are directly responsible for teacher education educational research and classroom practices This book will be key reading for postgraduates researchers and academics in education and particularly in the areas of mathematics education education research teacher education and classroom practice It will also appeal to teacher educators practitioners and undergraduate students interested in educational research Corporate DNA Arnold Kransdorff, 2017-05-15 For more than half a century the developed world has been chasing productivity It s financed our wealth but that part of output on which our continued prosperity depends productivity growth is petering out The traditional scapegoat has been the dearth of worker skills But the worker skills base has never been higher The other explanation is that it is managers who are not giving full value to their employers The way they re making decisions is conferring virtually no upside potential which means they re leaving us wide open for experience poor competitors to step into our experience rich shoes Exactly as Japan did in the 1960s and the so called BRICK countries Brazil Russia India China especially China and Korea are threatening now If creeping uncompetitiveness is not to overtake us from where are the next round of productivity gains to come from Identifying some gaping holes in the way managers are taught to manage this book outlines both the size of the problem and a solution Businesses and other organizations the author says have to substantially raise the quality of their decision making For this to happen they need to be much better experiential learners And for experiential learning to take place companies and other institutions have to better manage their corporate DNA the institution specific experiences otherwise known as Organizational Memory OM which characterizes any organization s ability to perform is the single biggest influence on decision making excellence It is a factor of production that has already been paid for at great expense yet is readily discarded in the backwash of the biggest change in workplace practice for more than a century the actively encouraged flexible labour market Corporate DNA explains why this key component of intellectual capital should be better managed can be better managed and particularly how it can be used to help organizations reduce the pandemic of repeated mistakes rei Resources in Education ,2001-10 Teaching Community School Mathematics Barbara Miller-Souviney,1981 Preschool Geometry Esther Levenson,Dina Tirosh,Pessia Tsamir,2012-01-01 Recently the issue of early childhood mathematics has come to the fore and with it the importance of teaching geometrical concepts and reasoning from a young age Geometry is a key domain mentioned in many national curricula and may also support the learning of other mathematical topics such as number and patterns This book is based on the rich experience research and practice of the authors and is devoted entirely to the learning and teaching of geometry in preschool The first part of the book is dedicated to children s geometrical thinking building concept images in line with concept definitions and the dilemmas that arise in the process The second part focuses on geometrical tasks and their role in developing and assessing geometrical reasoning The third part focuses on teaching geometry to young children Each of the three parts is structured in a similar manner beginning with general theory and research continuing with specific examples related to those theories and moving on to elements of actual practice Written in a meaningful yet enjoyable manner any person who has an interest in the mathematics education of preschool children be it parents caregivers teachers teacher educators and researchers will find this book relevant The Education of Atawe ,1981 Bad Education: Debunking Myths In Education Adey, Philip,Dillon, Justin,2012-10-01 As Ben Goldacre s Guardian Bad Science column debunks popular scientific myths this book aims to do the same for education myths and unjustified claims Traditional Mathematics in Morobe Geoff P.
