15 16 Makerere University Admissions:

Scholars in the Marketplace. The Dilemmas of Neo-Liberal Reform at Makerere University, 1989-2005

Mahmood Mamdani, 2007 Scholars in the Marketplace is a case study of market based reforms at Uganda's Makerere University. With the World Bank heralding neoliberal reform at Makerere as the model for the transformation of higher education in Africa, it has implications for the whole continent. At the global level, the Makerere case exemplifies the fate of public universities in a market oriented and capital friendly era. The Makerere reform began in the 1990s and was based on the premise that higher education is more of a private than a public good. Instead of pitting the public against the private and the state against the market, this book shifts the terms of the debate toward a third alternative than explores different relations between the two. The book distinguishes between privatisation and commercialisation, two processes that drove the Makerere reform. It argues that whereas privatisation, the entry of privately sponsored students, is compatible with a public university where priorities are publicly set, commercialisation, financial and administrative autonomy for each faculty to design a market responsive curriculum, inevitably leads to a market determination of priorities in a public university. The book warns against commercialisation of public universities as the subversion of public institutions for private purposes. Slow Poison Mahmood Mamdani, 2025-10-14 Idi Amin's crimes on behalf of Black empowerment in Uganda made him a monster in the world's eyes. Yet Yoweri Museveni has enjoyed decades of Western support in exchange for adopting neoliberal policies and embracing the war on terror. An esteemed Ugandan scholar's firsthand report Slow Poison uncovers revealing ironies of postcolonial history. International Perspectives of Distance Learning in Higher Education Joi L. Moore, Angela Benson, 2012-03-16 This book, written by authors representing 12 countries and five continents, is a collection of international perspectives on distance learning and distance learning implementations in higher education. The perspectives are presented in the form of practical case studies of distance learning implementations, research studies on teaching and learning in distance learning environments, and conceptual and theoretical frameworks for designing and developing distance learning tools, courses, and programs. The book will appeal to distance learning practitioners, researchers, and higher education administrators. To address the different needs and interests of audience members, the book is organized into five sections: Distance Education Management, Distance Education and Teacher Development, Distance Learning Pedagogy, Distance Learning Students, and Distance Learning Educational Tools. Abu Mayanja, MP A. B. K. Kasozi, 2024-02-01 This book, Abu Mayanja MP, the intellectual star of Uganda's Struggle for independence and the search for a liberal democratic state, 1929-2005, is a biography of a brilliant African politician, a history of a country and a continent told through the lens and activities of an individual politician. The book breaks new ground in how Uganda and Africa have been viewed by academic and popular opinion. Mayanja's life sheds light on the last days of colonialism and the early postcolonial history of Uganda and other African countries. First, although Africa, particularly Uganda, is viewed by popular imagination through the images of dictatorial and corrupt African leaders like Amin Obote Mubutu Bokassa Bongo and others there were and still are voices of reason who advocated for the advantages of good governance Secondly it shows that it is not only heads of states who influenced the political direction of postcolonial states in the period just before and after independence Other actors shaped the opinions of the masses and influenced how laws were formed and implemented Thirdly Mayanja is one of those public intellectuals who stood up to autocracy and what he thought should be done through words and actions He analysed political and social issues at a higher conceptual level than almost all his contemporaries He was indeed the intellectual star of Uganda's struggle for self rule and the nine years that followed independence His ridiculing of those in power for their failure to know or understand governance issues landed him in prison and denied him full participation in governing the Uganda postcolonial state But he left deep footprints on Uganda's and East African political thought Had his suggestions for managing postcolonial Uganda been followed the country would not have suffered as severely as it has since 1966
