Public witnesses and written testimony (May 15, 16, and 17, 1973) United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Finance, 1973 The Journal of the Assembly During the ... Session of the Legislature of the State of California California. Legislature. Assembly, 1969 Journal of the Assembly, Legislature of the State of California California. Legislature. Assembly, 1969 Higher Education Institutions in the EU: Between Competition and Public Service Andrea Gideon, 2017-02-05 This book investigates the impact of EU law and policy on the Member States higher education institution HEI sectors with a particular emphasis on the exposure of research in universities to EU competition law It illustrates how the gradual application of EU economic law to HEIs which were predominantly identified as being within the public sector creates tensions between the economic and the social spheres in the EU Given the reluctance of the Member States to openly develop an EU level HEI policy these tensions appear as unintended consequences of the traditional application of the EU Treaty provisions in areas such as Union Citizenship the free movement provisions and competition policy to the HEI sector These developments may endanger the traditional non economic mission of European HEIs In this respect the effects of Union Citizenship and free movement law on HEIs have received some attention but the impact of EU competition law constitutes a largely unexplored area of research and this book redresses that imbalance The aim of the research is to show that intended and unintended consequences of the EU economic constitution s are enhanced by a parallel tendency of Member States to commercialise formerly public sectors such as the HEI sector The book investigates the potential tensions through doctrinal analysis and a qualitative study focussing on the exposure of HEI research to EU competition law as an under researched example of exposure to economic constraints It concludes that such exposure may compromise the wider aims that research intensive universities pursue in the public interest Andrea Gideon is a Postdoctoral Research Fellow at the Centre for Law Business National University of Singapore for which she has suspended her position as Lecturer in Law at the University of Liverpool In her current project she is investigating the application of competition law to public services in ASEAN Her previous research concerned tensions between the economic and the social in the EU with a focus on EU competition law in which research area she earned her PhD at the University of Leeds in 2014 Number Savvy George Sciadas, 2022-12-16 This book is written for the love of numbers It tells their story shows how they were invented and used to quantify our world and explains what quantitative data mean for our lives It aspires to contribute to overall numeracy through a tour de force presentation of the production use and evolution of data Understanding our physical world our economies and our societies through quantification has been a persistent feature of human evolution This book starts with a narrative on why and how our ancestors were driven to the invention of number which is then traced to the eventual arrival at our number system This is followed by a discussion of how numbers were used for counting how they enabled the measurement of physical quantities and how they led to the estimation of man made and abstract notions in the socio economic domain As data don't fall like manna from the sky a unique feature of this book is that it explains from a teacher's perspective how they're really conceived in our minds how they're actually produced from individual observations and how this defines their meaning and interpretation It discusses the significance of standards the use of taxonomies and clarifies a series of misconceptions regarding the making of data The book then describes the switch to a new research paradigm and its implications highlights the arrival of microdata illustrates analytical uses of data and closes with a look at the future of data and our own role in it Publications Issued by the Public Health Service United States. Ethics and Political Practice Noel Preston,Charles Sampford,2012-10-02 Scrutinizing the practice of legislators and politicians from an ethical perspective this work looks closely at various methods to facilitate ethical conduct Higher Education Financing in East and Southern Africa Pundya Pillay,2010 This nine country study of higher education financing in Africa includes three East African states Kenya Tanzania and Uganda five countries in southern Africa Botswana Lesotho Mozambique Namibia and South Africa and an Indian Ocean island state Mauritius Higher Education Financing in East and Southern Africa explores trends in financing policies paying particular attention to the nature and extent of public sector funding of higher education the growth of private financing including both household financing and the growth of private higher education institutions and the changing mix of financing instruments that these countries are developing in response to public sector financial constraints This unique collection of African country case studies draws attention to the remaining challenges around the financing of higher education in Africa but also identifies good practices lessons and common themes

Public Roads ,1937 Health Promotion in Schools, Universities, Workplaces, and Communities Graça S. Carvalho,Emily Darlington,Teresa Vilaça,2024-12-17 Health education well being improvement and advocacy are effective health promotion strategies among cutting edge Public Health practices Salutogenic perspectives rooted in ecological models have taken their rightful place to empower individuals and communities to change their life ecosystems and preserve and improve their health It is imperative to shift from targeting protective or risk factors which have linear causal relationships with health conditions and or comorbidities and encompass a systemic understanding of the role of health determinants in creating health Individual collective and structural ecological approaches can better reduce health inequities Moreover engaging the presumed beneficiaries from such strategies ensures that actual needs are identified and choices are context specific It improves the whole implementation process as well as its results Higher levels of participation such as co creation imply a bottom up voluntary collaborative process rooted in values of diversity mutual trust openness autonomy freedom and respect as well as shared expertise responsibility and decision making which are essential values in co creating health promotion Papers in Taxation and Public Finance Queen's University (Kingston, Ont.),1966 Assessing Health-related Quality of Life of Children Pei Wang,Shunping Li,Jing Wu,Nan Luo,2024-02-20 Assessing health related quality of life HRQOL of Children has been a popular topic in recent years worldwide However there are several issues gaps in this research area which need to be addressed For instance previous studies on HRQOL of Children populations have normally used HRQOL instruments designed for adults These measurements may not be suitable for children as they are in a series of cognitive developmental stages and have different perspectives towards the relative importance of HRQOL dimensions In order to tackle this issue and to accurately measure children s HRQOL a set of dedicated HRQOL instruments should be first developed and validated The validated instruments could then be applied to the population measuring their HRQOL In addition the HRQOL information collected could be translated into health utility score if it is measured by utility instruments e g EQ 5D Y for the population Moreover the relevant studies on these issues is still lacking especially in non western countries

Corruption in the Public Construction Sector Ming Shan, Yun Le, Albert P.C. Chan, Yi Hu, 2019-07-12 This book is committed to provide a holistic view of corruption in the public construction sector a sector that has been perceived as the most corrupt in the world Relying on the new findings achieved from a series of qualitative and quantitative studies this book unveils the specific forms of corruption the principal causes of corruption and the prevailing anti corruption strategies that are used by the current practice Furthermore this book provides two metrics that can assess the potential of corruption and the risk of collusion in given public construction projects respectively This book will enhance industry and research communities understandings of corruption in the public construction sector It is also informative to policy makers and can help them come up with some more effective strategies to eliminate corruption in the public construction sector

The Political Economy of Covid-19 Jonathan Michie, Maura Sheehan, 2022-08-18 This comprehensive book brings together research published during 2021 analysing the impact of the Covid 19 pandemic on the economy on output and employment on inequality and on public policy responses The Covid 19 pandemic has been the greatest public health crisis for a century since the Spanish Flu pandemic of 1919 The economic impact has been equally seismic While it is too early to measure the full economic cost since much of this will continue to accumulate for some time to come it will certainly be one of the greatest global economic shocks of the past century Some chapters in this edited volume report on specific countries while some take a comparative look between countries and others analyse the impact upon the global economy Even before the Covid 19 pandemic there had been calls for a great reset in face of the climate crisis the increased income and wealth inequality and the need to avoid further global financial crisis With the devastating Covid 19 pandemic a harbinger for further such pandemics there is an even greater need for a reset and for the reset to be that much greater The chapters in this book were originally published as special issues in the journal International Review of Applied Economics Official U.

S. Bulletin United States. Committee on Public Information, 1919 Accuracy of rule extraction using a recursive-rule extraction algorithm with continuous attributes combined with a sampling selection technique for the diagnosis of liver disease Yoichi Hayashi, Kazuhiro Fukunaga, Although liver cancer is the second most common cause of death from cancer worldwide because of the limited accuracy and interpretability of extracted classification rules the diagnosis of liver disease remains difficult. In addition, hepatitis which is an inflammation of the liver can progress to cirrhosis or even liver cancer.

Oxford Textbook of Public Mental Health

Dinesh Bhugra, Kamaldeep

Bhui, Samuel Yeung Shan Wong, Stephen E. Gilman, 2018-09-13

Prevention of mental illness and mental health promotion have often been ignored in the past both in undergraduate and postgraduate curricula. Recently, however, there has been a clear shift towards public mental health as a result of increasing scientific evidence that both these actions have a serious potential to reduce the onset of illness and subsequent burden as a result of mental illness and related social, economic, and political costs. A clear distinction between prevention of mental illness and mental health promotion is critical. Selective prevention both at societal and individual level is an important way forward. The Oxford Textbook of Public Mental Health brings together the increasing interest in public mental health and the growing emphasis on the prevention of mental illness and promotion of well-being into a single comprehensive textbook. Comprising international experiences of mental health promotion and mental well-being, chapters are supplemented with practical examples and illustrations to provide the most relevant information succinctly. This book will serve as an essential resource for mental and public health professionals as well as for commissioners of services, nurses, and community health visitors.
