2014 Trial Kzn Paper:

Field Trials of Health Interventions Peter G. Smith, Richard H. Morrow, David A. Ross, 2015 This is an open access title available under the terms of a CC BY NC 4.0 International licence. It is free to read at Oxford Scholarship Online and offered as a free PDF download from OUP and selected open access locations. Before new interventions are released into disease control programmes it is essential that they are carefully evaluated in field trials. These may be complex and expensive undertakings requiring the follow up of hundreds or thousands of individuals often for long periods. Descriptions of the detailed procedures and methods used in the trials that have been conducted have rarely been published. A consequence of this individuals planning such trials have few guidelines available and little access to knowledge accumulated previously other than their own. In this manual practical issues in trial design and conduct are discussed fully and in sufficient detail that Field Trials of Health Interventions may be used as a toolbox by field investigators. It has been compiled by an international group of over 30 authors with direct experience in the design, conduct and analysis of field trials in low and middle income countries and is based on their accumulated knowledge and experience. Available as an open access book via Oxford Medicine Online, this new edition is a comprehensive revision incorporating the new developments that have taken place in recent years with respect to trials including seven new chapters on subjects ranging from trial governance and preliminary studies to pilot testing.

Ethnographies of Power Sharad Chari, Mark Hunter, Melanie Samson, Jennifer A. Devine, Michael Ekers, Jennifer Greenburg, Bridget Kenny, Stefan Kipfer, Alex Loftus, Zachary Levenson, Ahmed Veriava, 2022-08 In our time of rampant inequality, imperial capitalist plunder, violence and ecocide, when radical concepts from the past seem inadequate, how do researchers and students of ethnographic work decide what concepts to work with or renew? Gillian Hart is a key thinker in radical political economy, geography, development studies, agrarian studies and Gramscian critique of postcolonial capitalism. In Ethnographies of Power, each contributor engages her work and applies it to their own field of study. A major contribution of this collection is the merging of theory with praxis, resulting in invaluable research tools for postgraduate students. These include applying gendered labour practices among workers in South Africa, reading racial capitalism through agrarian debates, using relational comparison in an ethnography of schooling across Durban, reworking multiple socio-spatial trajectories in Guatemala's Maya Biosphere Reserve, critiquing the notion of South Africa's second economy, revisiting development processes and development discourses in US military contracting, reconsidering Gramsci's conjunctures geographically, finding divergent articulations in Cape Town land occupations and exploring nationalism as central to revaluing recyclables at a Soweto landfill. Together the chapters show how important the ongoing reworking of radical concepts is to ethnographic critiques of power. Ethnographies of Power offers an invaluable toolkit for activists and scholars engaged in sharpening their critical concepts for social and environmental change towards a collective future. Sizonqoba!

apartheid struggle for freedom The ordinary actions coordinated by and directed at amandla do not obscure the wounding effects of plantation labor or the long history of racial oppression but rather form the basis of what the Algerian artist Kader Attia calls repair In this captivating ethnography Cousins examines how amandla as the primary material of the work of repair anchors ordinary scenes of living and working in and around the plantations As a space of exploitation that enables the global paper and packaging industry to extract labor power the plantation depends on the availability of creative action in ordinary life to capitalize on bodily capacity The Work of Repair is a fine grained exploration of the relationships between laborers in the timber plantations of KwaZulu Natal and the historical decompositions and reinventions of the milieu of those livelihoods and lives Offering a fresh approach to the existential ethical and political stakes of ethnography from and of late liberal South Africa the book attends to urgent questions of postapartheid life the fate of employment the role of the state in providing welfare and access to treatment the regulation of popular curatives the queering of kinship and the future of custom and its territories Through detailed descriptions Cousins explicates the important and fragile techniques that constitute the work of repair the effort to augment one s capacity in a way that draws on acknowledges and reimagines the wounds of history keeping open the possibility of a future through and with others Spear Paul S.
