K. Murat Guney, Roger Keil, Murat
Ucoglu

2015 2016 Kzn Budget Speech:

Greening the South African Economy Mark Swilling, Josephine Kaviti Musango, Jeremy Wakeford, 2016-02-23 The depletion of South Africa's and in some cases the world's natural resources and the degradation of environmental sinks including the atmosphere lakes and rivers and land are continuing at such a rate that natural resource prices are climbing and many critical ecosystem services that underpin human welfare are increasingly threatened The concept of the green economy has gained increasing traction in South African policy discourses over the past few years However in much of this discourse it is viewed in a piecemeal way as one part or sector of the economy e.g. an industrial sector dealing with manufacture and installation of renewable energy technologies and energy efficient equipment and appliances In the view of the authors greening the South African economy requires an application of sustainability principles and practices across the full range of primary secondary and tertiary sectors of the economy in an integrated manner The aim of this book is therefore to apply principles of sustainability and green economics to the entire South African socio-economic system and its major elements in an integrated and comprehensive manner

Policing and Boundaries in a Violent Society Guy Lamb, 2022-01-31 This book explores how social and territorial boundaries have influenced the approaches and practices of the South Africa Police Service SAPS By means of a historical analysis of South Africa this book introduces a new concept police frontierism which illuminates the nature of the relationships between the police policing and boundaries and can potentially be used for future case study research Drawing on a wealth of research this book examines how social and territorial boundaries strongly influenced police practices and behaviour in South Africa and how social delineations amplify and distort existing police prejudices against those communities on the other side of the boundary Focusing on cases of high density police operations public order policing and the recent policing of the COVID 19 lockdown this book argues that poor economic conditions combined with an increased militarisation of the SAPS and a decline in public trust in the police will result in boundaries continuing to fundamentally inform police work in South Africa This book will be of interest to scholars and students interested in policing in post colonial societies characterised by high levels of violence as well as police work and police militarization

Sizonqoba! Outliving AIDS in Southern Africa Busani Ngcaweni, 2017-04-11 The aim of this book is to better understand the phenomenon of HIV in a country that has faced the fullest might of the disease and yet after first faltering has made more progress than any other country in the world in its response to HIV It aims to reflect the complexity of this narrative and the range of widely differing insights by featuring what is likely the largest number of contributors in a single publication on the subject in South Africa as well as a full spectrum of specialised areas ranging from high end science to personal reflections

Fees Must Fall Susan Booysen, 2016-10-01 This book explores the student discontent a year after the start of the 2015 South African FeesMustFall revolt FeesMustFall the student revolt that began in October 2015 was an uprising against lack of access to and financial exclusion from higher education in South Africa More broadly it radically questioned the socio political dispensation resulting from the 1994 social pace between big business the ruling elite and the liberation movement The 2015 revolt links to national and international youth struggles of the recent past and is informed by black consciousness politics and social movements of the international left Yet its objectives are more complex than those of earlier struggles The student movement has challenged the hierarchical top down leadership system of university management and its double speak of professing to act in workers and students interests yet entrenching a regressive system for control and governance University managements while on one level amenable to change have also co-opted students into their ranks to create co-responsibility for the highly bureaucratised university financial aid that stands in the way of their social revolution This book maps the contours of student discontent a year after the start of the FeesMustFall revolt Student voices dissect colonialism improper compromises by the founders of democratic South Africa feminism worker rights and meaningful education In depth assessments by prominent scholars reflect on the complexities of student activism its impact on national and university governance and offer provocative analyses of the power of the revolt

Anatomy of State Capture Nina Callaghan, Robyn Foley, Mark Swilling, 2021-11-26 Following the release of the Public Protector's State of Capture Report in November 2016 South Africans have been witness to an explosion of almost daily revelations of corruption mismanagement and abuses by those entrusted to lead the nation The extent of this betrayal is overwhelming and it is often difficult to distil what actually happened during the Zuma administration This book draws on the insights and expertise of 19 contributors from various sectors and disciplines to provide an account of what transpired at strategic sites of the state capture project The ongoing threat of state capture demands a response that probes beyond what happened to understanding how it was allowed to happen The stubborn culture of corruption and misgovernance continue to manifest unabated and the predatory practices which enable state capture have not yet been disrupted It is our hope that the various case studies and analyses presented in this book will contribute to confronting these shortcomings in current discourse and open avenues for progressive deliberation on how to collectively reclaim the prospects of a just and prosperous South Africa for all

Proceedings of the International Conference on Business and Management Dynamics 2016: Sustainable economies in the information economy Joy E.

Ndjave-Ndjoy, Regis Muchemwa, Andre de la Harpe, Konosoang Mpiti, Ayodeji Afolayan, 2016-12-31 Cape Town South Africa 7

Sept 2016 8 Sept 2016 Theme Sustainable economies in the information economy Purpose To share the quality academic papers presented at the International Conference on Business and Management Dynamics ICBMD held from 7 to 8

September 2016 at African Pride Crystal Hotel and Spa in Cape Town As grey literature the proceedings are the contributions made by researchers at the conference and are considered the written record of the work that was presented to fellow conference delegates Methodology The methodology used varies from researcher to researcher but are suitable for the

studies conducted Thus on the one hand studies that were subjective in nature used the interpretive paradigm where the qualitative approach adopted made use of the interview method to collect data On the other hand studies that were objectively inclined adopted the positivist philosophy and used survey questionnaires to collect data However there were some academic papers which used mixed methodology because of the nature of the study Whatever methodology used adhered to the ethos of the philosophies underpinning the methodology Contribution made to scholarship The articles come from individual researchers and each article in the proceedings is unique Mostly there is no general argument leading from one contribution to the next However it is interesting to note that in the area of economic performance it was evident that real exchange rate and net foreign direct investment contribute more towards innovations in economic growth With regard to human capital development papers presented evidence that there exists a definite need to explore the phenomenon of personal branding as limited scientific academic research has been done within the field of personal branding or on elements of the topic Thus the outcome argues that personal branding has an influence on leadership style which in turn impacts on organisational performance and related hygiene factors Furthermore it was demonstrated that current methods or strategies for enforcing institutionalisation of knowledge sharing within an organisation have not been successful and as such new strategies are needed to reinforce efforts to nurture and invigorate the institutionalisation of knowledge sharing within an organisation With regard to technology and big data impact on organisational performance it was evident that system performance memory consumption and CPU utilisation can be used as criteria to compare and evaluate big data technologies to improve organisational performance Most of the articles contribution reemphasised technology education and training as a means of digitising business and improving effectiveness Target audience The target readership is academic researchers and business leaders who require access to the latest developments in the fields of economics information management business education development studies social sciences and technology It is also for policymakers and other stakeholders who need a better understanding of the impact of new developments on existing policies and regulations for their review or amendment

Perspectives on the Legislature and the Prospects of Accountability in Nigeria and South Africa Omololu

Fagbadebo, Fayth Ruffin, 2018-08-03 This book examines the problem of accountability in two African political systems South Africa and Nigeria Despite the principle of separation of powers and the doctrine of checks and balances among the institutions of governance a burgeoning governance crisis stifles the potential of accountability and good governance Legislative oversight in the two countries remains largely ineffective while citizens are left to face the consequences of the mismanagement of public resources by political elites This book critically assesses how the legislative institutions in South Africa and Nigeria have been unable to harness the requisite constitutional powers to ensure accountability in government and explores the feasibility of their effectiveness The book begins with a comparative analysis of the principles tradition and powers associated with legislative capability in South Africa and Nigeria The chapters explore constitutional provisions and analyze the capacity of each legislature to function within its respective political environment The book also examines the process and challenges associated with the various measures and mechanisms available for legislatures to ensure accountability in the two countries Researchers scholars and students of African politics will find this book useful in their understanding of the problems associated with the simmering governance crisis in South Africa and Nigeria
