8 Audi A4 Problems:

Customer-Oriented Quality Management in the Automotive Industry Marit Breitfeld, 2005-02-28 Inhaltsangabe Abstract

In times of severe competition it is of crucial importance to create a competitive advantage to differentiate from the competitors and to sustain the business of the company. This thesis intends to show that a customer focused quality management is one way to create a sustainable competitive advantage. Quality controls along the whole value chain before, during and after production lead to failure free products which save costs on the one hand and have thus a positive influence on the company's revenue. On the other hand, failure free products that meet the customers' expectations lead to satisfied customers who build up a brand loyalty and conduct retention sales which have a positive influence on the company's sales market share as well as the overall image. Furthermore, this thesis points out that it is important to listen to the voice of the customers and get an insight in the customer's needs and wants. To fulfil or even exceed their expectations leads to customer satisfaction which is a key to success in today's business world. In addition, the customer demands in regard of quality are growing continuously and new technologies are appearing on the markets on a regular basis. Therefore, the producers are forced to keep to the latest technology developments and to get hold on the changing customer needs. But even without this external pressure, quality improvement is justified from a cost point of view. The applicability of a customer oriented quality management is shown in the practical part of this thesis when the quality of the Saab models is analyzed from the customer's perspective. Due to the arguments outlined in this thesis, it can be summarized that a quality management with a focus on the needs of the customers should become a core strategy of any company producing and selling products in order to create customer satisfaction and sustain the business. This thesis deals with the field of quality management in the context of customer satisfaction. To show the practical applicability of quality management, this thesis is looking at how quality management is conducted in the automotive industry as we compare the Initial Quality Study (IQS) from the market research institute J D Power with a survey that was internally conducted at the Saab Automobile AB. Today's business environment creates a growing need for quality management. Tougher competition leads to the demand for cost savings and higher

Machine Learning Toolbox for Social Scientists Yigit Aydede, 2023-09-22 Machine Learning Toolbox for Social Scientists covers predictive methods with complementary statistical tools that make it mostly self contained. The inferential statistics is the traditional framework for most data analytics courses in social science and business fields especially in Economics and Finance. The new organization that this book offers goes beyond standard machine learning code applications providing intuitive backgrounds for new predictive methods that social science and business students can follow. The book also adds many other modern statistical tools complementary to predictive methods that cannot be easily found in econometrics textbooks: nonparametric methods, data exploration with predictive models, penalized regressions, model selection with sparsity, dimension reduction methods, nonparametric time series predictions, graphical network analysis algorithmic optimization methods classification with imbalanced data and many others This book is targeted at students and researchers who have no advanced statistical background but instead coming from the tradition of inferential statistics The modern statistical methods the book provides allows it to be effectively used in teaching in the social science and business fields Key Features The book is structured for those who have been trained in a traditional statistics curriculum There is one long initial section that covers the differences in estimation and prediction for people trained for causal analysis The book develops a background framework for Machine learning applications from Nonparametric methods SVM and NN simple enough without too much detail It s self sufficient Nonparametric time series predictions are new and covered in a separate section Additional sections are added Penalized Regressions Dimension Reduction Methods and Graphical Methods have been increasing in their popularity in social sciences

Customer Retention in the Automotive Industry Michael D. Johnson, Andreas Herrmann, Frank Huber, Anders Gustafsson, 2012-12-06 The intensely competitive global automotive industry is in the midst of both a quality evolution and management transformation In an evolutionary fashion industry attention has progressed from a focus on internal quality to external perceptions of customer satisfaction to subsequent customer retention and profitability More transformational is the change in the way automotive companies operate and manage themselves An industry once dominated at a product level by engineering and a management level by finance is becoming a cross functional customer oriented industry Understanding the links from quality to satisfaction to retention has become a key to financial and organizational success as the automotive industry enters the new millennium We are fortunate in this regard to have assembled a diverse group of both academic and automotive industry contributors to offer a variety of insights into these links After describing the ongoing changes in the automotive industry in more detail this introductory chapter describes a framework for linking quality satisfaction and retention The framework is used to introduce each of the individual chapters and highlight its contribution Although our primary emphasis is on the automotive industry the implications of the research and lessons learned extend far beyond If anything the automotive industry is a prototypical competitive global industry that faces a myriad of business issues These include among others issues pertaining to product development service development process improvement product quality service quality supplier relationships internal customer satisfaction external customer satisfaction retailing promotion pricing franchising and technology management
