Ancient Mali

They fought along the
Niger River

Great camel caravans brought salt, iron, copper, cloth, books, and pearls from the north and northeast. They were exchanged for gold, kola nuts, ivory, leather, rubber, and slaves from the south. The Niger River became a major artery of trade. When the caravans met the Niger, their goods would be unloaded on riverboats, and the camels would return north carrying valuable commodities from the south like gold.

Most of the people of ancient Mali made their living in agriculture, just as they do today. People needed coffee, goats, sheep, and some camels in the north. Crop agriculture was more common in the wetter south.
