CHAPTER 11

Cost Management in an Automated Business Environment (ABC, ABM, and TQM)

Chapter 11, and associated homework questions, are all about the ABC (Activity-Based Costing) system. This chapter discusses how the ABC system is different from other costing systems. It also discusses how the ABC system is used to improve product design, reduce waste, and improve customer service. The ABC system is a costing system that assigns costs to products based on the activities that are required to produce the product. The ABC system is different from other costing systems because it assigns costs to products based on the activities that are required to produce the product. The ABC system is used to improve product design, reduce waste, and improve customer service.
