Communication in Accounting Education Richard M.S. Wilson, F. Elizabeth Gray, Lynn Hamilton, 2016-04-14 Accounting often described as the language of business requires a diverse set of written listening and oral communication skills if those who practise it are to be effective Given the pace of change relating to for example the evolution of international accounting standards and the demands for greater transparency accountants must be clear responsive and audience focussed communicators Employers of accountants consistently comment on the need for their new graduate recruits and trainees to have strong written oral and interpersonal communication skills In this light accounting educators face the challenge of designing and delivering programmes that reflect professional expectations on the part of employers and clients and educating students on how to make informed communication choices in order to achieve desired results and to build good working relationships The chapters in this book deal with such topics as accounting students perceptions of oral communication skills competence based writing skills and the development of listening skills This book was originally published as Accounting Education an international journal Management and Cost Accounting Andreas Taschner, Michel Charifzadeh, 2020-09-01 Management and cost accounting has been the basic toolbox in business administration for decades Today it is an integral part of all curricula in business education and no student can afford not to be familiar with its basic concepts and instruments At the same time business in general and management accounting in particular is becoming more and more international English clearly has evolved as the lingua franca of international business Academics students as well as practitioners exchange their views and ideas discuss concepts and communicate with each other in English This is certainly also true for cost accounting and management accounting Management Accounting is becoming increasingly international Management and Cost Accounting is a new English language textbook covering concepts and instruments of cost and management accounting at an introductory level Bachelor but also suited for MBA courses due to strong focus on practical applications and cases This textbook covers all topics that are relevant in management accounting in business organizations and that are typically covered in German and Central European Bachelor classes on cost accounting and management accounting After an introduction to the topic including major differences between the German approach and the purely Anglo Saxon approach of management accounting the book describes different cost terms and concepts applied in German cost accounting The book is much more specific here compared to US American standard textbooks Based on different cost concepts the topic of cost behavior is discussed including the determination of cost functions The heart of the book guides the reader through the general structure of a fully developed cost accounting system following the German and Central European standard It starts with cost type accounting moves on to cost center accounting and finally deals with cost unit accounting assigning cost to goods and services offered in the market The remaining parts of the book deal with decision making and how management and cost accounting data can support managers in this task A comparison of absorption costing and variable costing introduces the reader to management decisions such as product portfolio and outsourcing decisions Additionally cost volume profit analysis break even analysis is covered The book closes with a comprehensive treatment of cost planning and variance analysis

Accounting and Financial System Reform in Eastern Europe and Asia Robert W. McGee, Galina G. Preobragenskaya, 2006-03-14 Much has been written about the economic and political problems of countries that are in the process of changing from centrally planned systems to market systems Most studies have focused on the economic legal political and sociological problems these economies have had to face during the transition period However not much has been written about the dramatic changes that have to be made to the accounting and financial system of a transition economy This book was written to help fill that gap This book is the second in a series to examine accounting and financial system reform in transition economies The first book used Russia as a case study The present volume in the series examines some additional aspects of the reform in Russia and also looks at the accounting and financial system reform efforts that are being made in Ukraine Bosnia Herzegovina Armenia and five Central Asian republics

Accounting in France (RLE Accounting) Yannick Lemarchand, Robert Parker, 2014-04-03 This volume illustrates the research not only of French accountants Colasse Durand Jouanique Lemarchand Nikitin Richard Tessier but also the work of Belgian authors writing in French Stevelinck Haulotte and of French non accountants de Swarte Durdilly Sauvy The work of British and North American academics writing in English on French accounting history is also illustrated from the 1930s Howard Edwards through to the 1960s Parker and the more recent research of Standish Fortin and Bhimani The contributions to this volume have been arranged both chronologically and thematically as follows the earliest business accounting records the first French accounting authors Colbert Savbary and the Ordonnance de Commerce the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries cost accounting the national accounting plan national income accounting government accounting and accounting theory An abstract of each contribution is given in both English and French SLA Research and Materials Development for Language Learning Brian Tomlinson, 2016-05-20 SLA Research and Materials Development for Language Learning is the only book available to focus on the interaction between second language acquisition theory and materials development for language learning It consists of contributions written by experts in SLA experts in materials development researchers who have expertise in both fields and introductions and conclusions by the editor The book is organized into four major sections position statements materials driven by SLA theory evaluations of materials in relation to SLA theory and proposals for action that offer a diverse range of perspectives while maintaining a cohesive and comprehensive overview on the subject This book is ideal for post graduate courses in applied linguistics and second language acquisition and for researchers interested in the relationship between SLA and materials development Accounting and Business Economics Yuri Biondi, Stefano Zambon, 2013-04-02 The recent financial crisis has sparked debates surrounding the nature and role of accounting in informing capital markets and regulatory bodies about the financial performance and position of a firm These debates have drawn attention to the broader implications of accounting for the economy and society Accounting and Business Economics brings together leading international scholars to examine the current state of accounting theory and its fundamental connection with the economics and finance of firms viewing the business entity from not only accounting but also national economic social political juridical anthropological and moral points of view
