

Chapter 1 Solutions

1.1 Explain the difference between accounting, an account, and accountability.

Accounting is a collection of systems and processes used to record, report and interpret business transactions. An account is an explanation or report in financial terms about those transactions. Accountability arises from the stewardship function, that managers have to provide an account to other stakeholders in the business.

1.2 Summarise the main activities of management accountants.

The main activities of management accountants includes participation in planning, primarily through budgets; generating, analysing, presenting and interpreting information to support decision-making, and monitoring and controlling performance.

1.3 Explain how the role of management accounting has changed over the last 100 years.

The origin of management accounting was cost accounting in factories, where accountants were close to the business and advised non-financial managers.

Management accountants have advised on economies of scale as well as of scope as businesses grew and diversified as divisionalization, conglomerates and multinational organizations increased the demand for accounting information. Non-financial performance information has come to challenge management accounting information. Although new techniques have been developed, new manufacturing technologies and the growth of service industries has not been matched by the changing role of management accountants. Management accounting is increasingly decentred in organizations, with IT carrying out the bulk of routine transaction processing. Organizations are increasingly looking for management accountants to use their financial expertise to contribute to strategy formulation and implementation.

Accounting For Managers 4th Edition:

Management Accounting, 4th Edition Leslie G. Eldenburg, Albie Brooks, Judy Oliver, Gillian Vesty, Rodney Dormer, Vijaya Murthy, Nick Pawsey, 2020-01-21 Eldenburg's fourth edition of Management Accounting combines the basic technical issues associated with cost management, management accounting and control with more recent and emerging themes and issues. Management Accounting is a compulsory element of the accounting major and this text is written to cover the content typically taught in the two management accounting units offered in most accounting programs. The Management Accounting interactive e-text features a range of instructional media content designed to provide students with an engaging learning experience. This includes case videos, interactive problems and questions with immediate feedback. Eldenburg's unique resource can also form the basis of a blended learning solution for lecturers.

A Textbook of Accounting for Management, 4th Edition Maheshwari S.N. & Maheshwari S.K. & Maheshwari Sharad K., The book provides a comprehensive coverage of the course content requirements of the students appearing in the paper Management Accounting at the MBA and MCom examinations of different Indian Universities and those of professional institutions. The book has been divided into five convenient sections. Each section covers a different aspect of Management Accounting with the subject divided into chapters covering different topics in a systematic and concise manner. The unique features of this book lie in its simple and systematic presentation of theory which would enable the students to solve practical problems with ease. The other main strengths of this book are plentiful illustrative examples and end of the chapter exercises with answers.
