Jeusfeld, Oscar Pastor, 2003-10-02 This book constitutes the refereed joint proceedings of four international workshops held in conjunction with the 22nd International Conference on Conceptual Modelling ER 2003 held in Chicago IL USA in October 2003. The 35 revised full papers presented together with introduction to the four workshops were carefully reviewed and selected from numerous submissions. In accordance with the respective workshops, the papers are organized in topical sections on conceptual modelling approaches for e business conceptual modelling, quality agent oriented information systems, XML data and schema. Interorganisational Standards Ulrich M. Löwer, 2006-02-25 Standards play crucial roles in many different aspects of today's economy. They can define meanings of semantics, product interfaces, process steps or performance levels. Interorganisational standards are specifications that define business related semantics and processes which are made accessible to other organisations' information systems. While modular organisation forms such as supply chain networks demand such standards for higher flexibility, XML based Web

Services offer a relatively new technological platform to develop such standards. The development of comprehensive interorganisational standards however is far from being completed. This book thus answers the questions how interorganisational standards are developed and how different actors should get involved in it. The author uses actor network theory to conduct two in depth case studies on ebXML and RosettaNet. While researchers will find new explanations for the development of interorganisational standards, managers and executives will benefit from the strategic implications this book discusses.
