

ACCOUNTING

Paper 0452/12 Paper 12

Key messages

When preparing ledger accounts labels such as BBD and BD are not acceptable. Ideally balance b/d or c/d should be written.

Labelling items is extremely important when preparing income statements or statements of financial position. Again, abbreviations such as COGS for cost of goods sold or GP and NP for gross profit and profit are not acceptable.

Candidates should also use the correct terminology in questions concerning clubs or associations.

Candidates should always indicate where they may have re-written an answer in a different section of the answer booklet.

General comments

Overall candidates performed well in this paper with several achieving extremely high scores. Candidates seemed to find the written aspects slightly more challenging than the numerical questions. Candidates frequently did not complete an answer accurately when the general approach was otherwise correct and did not get full credit. Examples of this is in not providing correct dates in ledger accounts, not identifying correct names of partners in an appropriation account, not indicating an overdraft balance on a bank account or bank statement.

Comments on specific questions

Question 1

This question comprised 10 multiple choice items. There were only a few instances where candidates made no attempt at a particular answer.

Specific questions caused more difficulty than others. They are discussed below.

- (c) Candidates found this question challenging. Candidates need to revisit manufacturing accounts and recognise what is actually being calculated in a manufacturing account.
- (d) It is possible candidates did not appreciate that the question was concerned with Narinder's draft statement of financial position.
- (h) Many candidates calculated the gross margin or the profit per cent but not the mark-up.
- (j) Candidates should be encouraged to prepare a 'T' account where looking at entries in ledger accounts.
