The Epworth Herald, 1896 Radical Unionism in the Midwest, 1900-1950 Rosemary Feurer, 2006 In Radical Unionism in the Midwest 1900 1950 Rosemary Feurer examines the fierce battles between Midwestern electrical workers and bitterly anti union electrical and metal industry companies during the 1930s and 40s Organized as District 8 of the United Electrical Radio and Machine Workers UE and led by open Communist William Sentner workers developed a style of unionism designed to confront corporate power and to be a force for social transformation in their community and nation Feurer studies District 8 through a long lens establishing early twentieth century contexts for these conflicts Exploring the role of radicals in local movement formation Feurer argues for a civic unionism that could connect community and union concerns to build solidarity and contest the political economy District 8 s spirited unionism included plant occupations in St Louis and Iowa campaigns to democratize economic planning and local strategies for national bargaining that were depicted as a Communist conspiracy by a corporate influenced Congressional committee in Evansville Indiana District 8 was destroyed through reactionary networks and the anti Communist backlash of the mid twentieth century but Feurer argues that its history tells another side of the labor movement s formation in the 1930s and 40s and can inform current struggles against corporate power in the modern global economy A website with more photographs and documents is available at www.radicalunionism.niu.edu Geology of the Eagle-Circle District, Alaska John Beaver Mertie, 1930 The Western Christian Advocate, 1897 The Pennsylvania School Journal Thomas Henry Burrowes, James Pyle Wickersham, Elnathan Elisha Higbee, David Jewett Waller, Nathan C. Schaeffer, John Piersol McCaskey, Thomas Edward Finegan, James Herbert Kelley, 1866 Western Christian Advocate, 1898 The Christian-Evangelist Index, 1962 Pennsylvania School Journal, 1867 The Golden Rule, 1896 The Miners of Windber Mildred Beik, 1996-08-30 In 1897 the Berwind White Coal Mining Company founded Windber as a company town for its miners in the bituminous coal country of Pennsylvania The Miners of Windber chronicles the coming of unionization to Windber from the 1890s when thousands of new immigrants flooded Pennsylvania in search of work through the New Deal era of the 1930s when the miners rights to organize join the United Mine Workers of America and bargain collectively were recognized after years of bitter struggle Mildred Allen Beik a Windber native whose father entered the coal mines at age eleven in 1914 explores the struggle of miners and their families against the company whose repressive policies encroached on every part of their lives That Windber s population represented twenty five different nationalities including Slovaks Hungarians Poles Italians and Carpatho Russians was a potential obstacle to the solidarity of miners Beik however shows how the immigrants overcame ethnic fragmentation by banding together as a class to unionize the mines Work family church fraternal societies and civic institutions all proved critical as men and women alike adapted to new working conditions and to a new culture Circumstance if not principle forced miners to embrace cultural pluralism in their fight for greater democracy reforms of capitalism and an inclusive working class definition of what it meant to be an American. Beik draws on a wide variety of sources including oral histories gathered from thirty-five of the oldest living immigrants in Windber, foreign language newspapers, fraternal society collections, church manuscripts, public documents, union records, and census materials. The struggles of Windber's diverse working class undeniably mirror the efforts of working people everywhere to democratize the undemocratic America they knew. Their history suggests some of the possibilities and limitations, strengths and weaknesses of worker protest in the early twentieth century.
