Teens in South Africa David Seidman, 2008-07 A look at world geography and contemporary culture from the perspective of young people

Co-teaching and co-research in contexts of inequality Phindile Zifikile Shangase, Daniela Gachago, Eunice Ndeto Ivala, 2023-05-09 There has been a recent surge of interest in the concept of co teaching and co research across institutions of HE locally and globally as a response to limited international mobility due to COVID 19 We see co teaching and co research as teaching and research that connects educators and learners across different institutions and different contexts be it across South Africa Africa or the world Co teaching and co research is linked in this book to the term networked learning following the Networked Learning Editorial Collective s emphasis on relationships and collaboration rather than technology and foregrounding our strong commitment to social justice Our collective experiences have shown that co teaching and co research are not easy endeavours especially when they involve differently positioned and differently resourced contexts students and academics While these collaborations are enriching and exciting they need careful support preparation and time for sustained relationship building topics that we find are not necessarily discussed in the literature around co teaching and co research This book is an attempt towards closing this gap in knowledge by providing a range of chapters documenting personal experiences of academics and practitioners engaging in co teaching and co research across the African continent and beyond facilitated by various networked learning tools and technologies Framed by a spirit of sharing and connection the book provides insights into the benefits and challenges of such collaborations affordances of technologies to bridge unequal divides emerging practices of continental collaboration and beyond Additionally the book provides an unusually honest and nuanced view on co teaching and co research across contexts of inequalities foregrounding relationship and community building rather than technology and emphasising the importance of sustained connection and reflection in these collaborations Applying a wide range of critical theoretical frameworks these evidence based but also reflective and reflexive contributions are a unique and important reminder that behind and through our screens we connect as humans who yearn to learn from each other but also need to learn how to learn from each other when we do not share the same world views

Politics and Governance of Basic Education Brian Levy, Robert Cameron, Ursula Hoadley, Vinodhan Naidoo, 2018-09-21 This is an open access title available under the terms of a CC BY NC ND 4 0 International licence It is free to read at Oxford Scholarship Online and offered as a free PDF download from OUP and selected open access locations All over the world economic inclusion has risen to the top of the development discourse A well performing education system is central to achieving inclusive development but the challenge of improving educational outcomes has proven to be unexpectedly difficult Access to education has increased but quality remains low with weaknesses in governance comprising an important part of the explanation The Politics and Governance of Basic Education explores the balance between hierarchical and horizontal institutional arrangements for the public provision of basic education Using the vivid example of South Africa a country that had ambitious goals at the outset of its transition from apartheid to democracy it explores how the interaction of politics and institutions affects educational outcomes By examining lessons learned from how South Africa failed to achieve many of its goals it constructs an innovative alternative strategy for making process combining practical steps to achieve incremental gains to re orient the system towards learning South African Journal of Science ,2004

People Living with Disabilities in South African Cities Hangwelani Hope Magidimisha-Chipungu,2024-10-22 This book offers a unique and much needed perspective on disability and accessibility in urban context in South Africa Drawing on lived experiences of disabled people it documents the multidimensional aspect of poverty in the context of disability and built environment to show how poorly planned cities create physical and social barriers that impact the life of people with disabilities People Living with Disabilities in South African Cities is structured around three main insights and themes that inform the author s approach to disability and cities The first is disability research drawing on studies on planning and the built environment the author highlights the role of physical environment in promoting inclusion and accessibility for people with disabilities The second theme is social protection i e ways to provide support and resources for people with disabilities to enable them to participate fully in society Finally the author explores the policies and legislative context needed to create an inclusive society challenging the role of governments and policy makers Offering a comprehensive approach to studying disabilities and cities the author aims to bridge the gap between disability studies inclusive planning and design to support the development of accessible cities in the African context This invaluable book not only raises awareness on social inclusion but also offers an invaluable guide to policy makers across the Global South to tackle and address inequalities Questions
