Diminishing Returns Lucio Baccaro, Mark

Blyth, Jonas Pontusson, 2022 A set of state of the art empirical analyses at the country regional and global level that work from a new theoretical framework that analyzes the politics of growth and stagnation As highlighted by the recent debate on secular stagnation economic growth has slowed down considerably and this has given rise to a host of new problems from financial instability to the collapse of mainstream parties What happens when growth the main mechanism of capitalist legitimation is harder to come by and less broadly shared And how should we think about capitalist diversity in the context of global stagnation In Diminishing Returns Lucio Baccaro Mark Blyth and Jonas Pontusson address these questions by bringing together a number of comparative and international political economists with expertise across many different countries and regions Going beyond the methodological nationalism common in most comparative research each author departs from a common theoretical framework the Growth Model Perspective and contributes to develop it further The outcome is a new theoretical framework to help social scientists policymakers and opinion makers understand the politics of growth and stagnation which offers state of the art empirical analyses at the country regional and global level

The State of Conservation Joshua Nygren, 2025-01-06 In the twentieth century natural resource conservation emerged as a vital force in US politics laying the groundwork for present day sustainability Merging environmental agricultural and political history Joshua Nygren examines the political economy and ecology of agricultural conservation through the lens of the conservation industrial complex This evolving public private network which united the US Department of Agriculture Congress local and national organizations and the agricultural industry guided soil and water conservation in rural America for much of the century Contrary to the classic tales of US environmental politics and the rise and fall of the New Deal Order this book emphasizes continuity Nygren demonstrates how the conservation policies programs and partnerships of the 1930s and 1940s persisted through the age of environmentalism and how their defining traits anticipated those typically associated with late twentieth century political culture The conservation industrial complex promoted a development oriented brand of conservation that aided the rise of large scale capital intensive agriculture which continues today It also reshaped the physical and political landscapes of the country leading to impressive conservation victories and spectacular failures by privileging some environments degrading others and intensifying farm depopulation In the name of environmental protection agricultural conservation made rural America less equal
