JULY 2014

FIRST EXAMINERS:	MS. C HOHLS MS. M MARCHBANK	TIME: 150 MINUTES
SECOND EXAMINER:	MRS V VAN DYK	MARKS: 125 MARKS

INSTRUCTIONS:

1. This paper consists of TEN pages. If your paper does not contain all the pages, please put up your hand so that a replacement paper can be handed to you.
2. Answer all the questions.
3. Answer each question on a separate folio.
4. Calculate the time that you should spend on each question by multiplying the number of marks for each question by 1,2 to determine the time, in minutes, available for each question. Adhere to these time constraints in order to finish the paper in the given time.
5. Delete all (even single open lines) open spaces on your answer sheets with pen. Pages on your answer sheets that contain open spaces will be marked as such and those pages will not be eligible for a remark.
6. No tippex or pencil may be used on your answer sheets. Pages on your answer sheets that contain pencil or tippex will be marked as such and will not be eligible for a remark.
7. All the examination regulations of the UJ and the policy document for students of the Department of Accounting will apply during this assessment.
8. Please hand back the exam paper to the invigilator as you may NOT retain a copy of the supplementary examination.
9. The neatness, disclosure and presentation of your answers will be taken into account when marking your paper.
10. Read questions carefully, if you need to provide explanations you should always use full sentences, refrain from simply naming facts.

Willoughby,2014-12-31 Stephen S Willoughby has taught mathematics for 59 years and he has seen everything Some of it has annoyed him some has inspired him This little book is something of a valedictory and he shares some parting thoughts as he contemplates the end of his teaching career Willoughby has strong cogent and mostly negative opinions about textbooks standardized testing and teacher training These opinions have been forged in the cauldron of the classroom of a deeply caring teacher They might not please readers but they ought to make them think They should spark needed debate in our community Ultimately this is a human tale with rough parallels to Hardy s A Mathematician s Apology replace mathematicians with teachers perhaps Every teacher will sympathize with Willoughby s frustrations and empathize with the humanity and compassion that animated his life s work and that beat at the center of this book Science Teaching in Schools Great Britain: Parliament: House of Lords: Science and Technology Committee,2006-11-05 The Committee s report examines science and mathematics teaching in secondary schools in England focusing on the following issues the take up of science and mathematics at GCSE and A level the provision of careers advice to students problems in the recruitment and retention of teachers the quality of teaching methods and the role of continuing professional development The Committee finds that effective science teaching in schools is essential both in order to ensure a satisfactory general level of scientific literacy in society and to enable the next generation of scientists and engineers to progress into higher education and beyond It argues that the current examination system forces students to study an excessively narrow range of subjects at too early an age and it recommends that the Government should reconsider the Tomlinson proposals for a broader diploma based system for 14 19 year old students based on the International Baccalaureate This would ensure that students receive a more rounded education and are not made to over specialise before they are able to see the merits of studying science and mathematics Concerns are also raised about the shortage of science teachers particularly specialist physics and chemistry teachers the quality of careers advice in schools and the importance of practical science in schools System Recall Alma Harris,Michelle S. Jones,2019-10-17 This book argues that much of what passes as contemporary educational reform in education is faulty and damaging It argues that it is time for a system recall and a need to look at what matters most in the pursuit of educational goals The book focuses on what we know about contemporary educational improvement transformation and change It will provide insights into what strategies work long term to build the capacity for principled change at the school and system level The book will consider what leaders can do to secure principled school and system improvement which fully embraces diversity equity and equality It will also dispel some myths about reform at scale and challenge some prevailing ideas about educational change that it will be posited are not helping many young people to reach their potential The main argument of the book is that too many school and system improvement initiatives have not paid sufficient attention to equity issues in their pursuit of ever higher achievement and that the net effect of large scale international assessments have been to distract policy makers in ways that have not always benefitted young people The book will use system examples to underpin and exemplify six core ways of re botting the system and generating progress for all It will highlight the implications for school and system leaders

Engineering ,1937 Between Citizens and the State Christopher P. Loss,2014-04-07 This book tracks the dramatic outcomes of the federal government s growing involvement in higher education between World War I and the 1970s and the conservative backlash against that involvement from the 1980s onward Using cutting edge analysis Christopher Loss recovers higher education s central importance to the larger social and political history of the United States in the twentieth century and chronicles its transformation into a key mediating institution between citizens and the state Framed around the three major federal higher education policies of the twentieth century the 1944 GI Bill the 1958 National Defense Education Act and the 1965 Higher Education Act the book charts the federal government s various efforts to deploy education to ready citizens for the national bureaucratized and increasingly global world in which they lived Loss details the myriad ways in which academic leaders and students shaped and were shaped by the state's shifting political agenda as it moved from a preoccupation with economic security during the Great Depression to national security during World War II and the Cold War to securing the rights of African Americans women and other previously marginalized groups during the 1960s and 70s Along the way Loss reappraises the origins of higher education's current day diversity regime the growth of identity group politics and the privatization of citizenship at the close of the twentieth century At a time when people's faith in government and higher education is being sorely tested this book sheds new light on the close relations between American higher education and politics Government Reports
