15 Cameroon G C E Questions:

The Anglophone Question and Postcolonial Hegemony in Cameroon Lyombe Eko, 2025-01-15 The Anglophone Question Postcolonial Hegemony in Cameroon The Past that Did Not Pass is a comprehensive collection of essays and analyses that explore the historical colonial postcolonial legal and international relations aspects of the politico cultural and linguistic crisis between the English speaking former British Southern Cameroons now divided into the Northwest and Southwest regions and the French speaking majority of the former French Cameroon la R publique du Cameroun This conflict has shaken Cameroon to its core since the 1990s and led to an armed conflict between the government of Cameroon and Anglophone non state armed groups The premise of this book is that the Anglophone Question the problematic situation of the muted English and Pidgin speaking minority in French Cameroon is one of the unfinished items of business of World War I and the Treaty of Versailles of 1919 that resolved the conflicts of that great conflict The Anglophone conflict has been exacerbated by the authoritarian republican chieftaincy that was installed in Cameroon after independence and reunification This neo patrimonial kleptocratic regime of Cameroon has with the support of its international partners emphasized the argument of force rather than the force of argument thereby creating yet another frozen African conflict The Anglophone Question cannot vanish by some political maneuver as Cameroon's senile nonagenarian president has done over the decades with his ossified knee excruciatingly painful on the nation's neck That is my takeaway after reading this insightful well argued exhaustively researched highly intellectualized yet practical compendium of chapters that bear an unapologetic witness to the horrific Anglophone Problem I celebrate the authors fearlessness articulation and lucid presentation as the establishment continues to seal its ears with candle wax I'll reverse President Paul Biya's mantra and say Rule 1 There is an Anglophone Problem Rule 2 When in doubt consult Rule 1 Uche Onyebadi PhD Texas Christian University Texas USA The Cameroon GCE Crisis Francis B. Nyamnjoh, Richard Fonteh Akum, 2008 This book documents the battles fought by the Anglophone community in Cameroon to safeguard the General Certificate of Education GCE a symbol of their cherished colonial heritage from Britain from attempts by agents of the Ministry of National Education to subvert it These battles opposed a mobilised and determined Anglophone civil society against numerous machinations by successive Francophone dominated governments to destroy their much prided educational system in the name of national integration When Southern Cameroonians re united with La Republique du Cameroun in 1961 they claimed that they were bringing into the union a fine education system from which their Francophone compatriots could borrow Instead they found themselves battling for decades to save their way of life Central to their concerns and survival as a community is an urgent need for cultural recognition and representation of which an educational system free of corruption and trivialisation through politicisation is a key component BOOK JACKET The Anglophone Question and Postcolonial Hegemony in Cameroon Vol II Lyombe Eko, 2025-05-04 The Anglophone Question Postcolonial Hegemony in Cameroon The Past that Did Not Pass is a comprehensive collection of essays and analyses that explore the historical colonial postcolonial legal and international relations aspects of the politico cultural and linguistic crisis between the English speaking former British Southern Cameroons now divided into the Northwest and Southwest regions and the French speaking majority of the former French Cameroon la R publique du Cameroun This conflict has shaken Cameroon to its core since the 1990s and led to an armed conflict between the government of Cameroon and Anglophone non state armed groups The premise of this book is that the Anglophone Question the problematic situation of the muted English and Pidgin speaking minority in French Cameroon is one of the unfinished items of business of World War I and the Treaty of Versailles of 1919 that resolved the conflicts of that great conflict The Anglophone conflict has been exacerbated by the authoritarian republican chieftaincy that was installed in Cameroon after independence and reunification This neo patrimonial kleptocratic regime of Cameroon has with the support of its international partners emphasized the argument of force rather than the force of argument thereby creating yet another frozen African conflict

A Nation at Risk Peter Wuteh Vakunta, 2012 A Nation at Risk A Personal Narrative of the Cameroonian Crisis should be construed as a requiem for what used to be known as the Republic of Cameroon The overriding objective of this book is to shine the searchlight on the dysfunctional government of Cameroon under President Paul Biya a minuscule man and matching mind endowed with a gargantuan ego Those who wish to comprehend the apocalypse toward which the Cameroonian nation has been propelled by the rogue government of Mr Biya would do well to study the minds of the men at the helm Mr Biya and his henchmen enjoy playing at and for power The politics of power is for them an act of intellectual masturbation Even the diabolism inherent in the phenomenon of power is something they relish In Nation at Risk Peter Wuteh Vakunta a prolific writer in his own right has successfully pieced together a compelling narrative of the many facets of the crisis that has plagued Cameroon during the more than three decade presidency of Mr Paul Biya Lucid and captivating this landmark volume provides a seminal contribution to readers appreciation of the social political economic and cultural events that have shaped Cameroon s history from the time of independence from colonial masters to date Vakunta s penetrating analysis of the lackluster governmental modus operandi of President Biya is a must read for all Cameroonians and friends of Cameroon who feel deeply about the future of this often forgotten African nation Dr Peter Ngwafu Ajongwa Associate Professor

Handbook of Research on Perspectives in Foreign Language Assessment Köksal, Dinçay, Kavaklı Ulutaş, Nurdan, Arslan, Sezen, 2023-02-27 As a predominant teaching paradigm foreign language learning has increasingly been one of the crucial elements that leads to career accomplishments for students Due to this foreign language assessment has emerged as a major topic in the field of foreign language learning The Handbook of Research on Perspectives in Foreign Language Assessment examines perspectives on language assessment through reflections on classroom applications and makes recommendations to strengthen quality language assessments by drawing on a variety of research methodologies It also provides a foundation as to why foreign language assessment as a discipline should be refocused with caution what sort of theoretical and practical implications should be in place for foreign language teachers and in what ways it may be possible to provide futuristic perspectives on foreign language assessment for test developers and users involved in language assessment Covering key topics such as testing literacy and language teaching this major reference work is ideal for industry professionals policymakers administrators researchers academicians scholars practitioners instructors preservice teachers teacher educators librarians and students

Negotiating an Anglophone Identity Piet

Konings, Francis Beng Nyamnjoh, 2003-01-01 This study of Cameroon captures with fascinating detail and insight the growing disaffection with the sterile rhetoric of nation building that has characterised much of postcolonial African politics It focuses on the resistance of Anglophone Cameroonians to nationhood which is being pursued to the detriment of minority identities

Boundaries and History in Africa Willibroad Dze-Ngwa, E. S. D. Fomin, Daniel Abwa, Albert-Pascal Temgoua, 2013 This book comprises 26 well researched essays in honour of Professor Verkijika G Fanso who retired in 2011 after over 36 years of distinguished service at universities in Cameroon Contributors include colleagues former students and close collaborators in Cameroon and beyond Contributions cover a wide range of issues related to the contested histories politics and practices of boundaries and frontiers in Africa These are themes on which Fanso has researched published and taught extensively and earned international recognition as a leading scholar The book explores inter alia indigenous and endogenous practices of boundary making in Africa as well as colonial and contemporary traditions practices and conflicts on and around frontiers In particular focus are disputed colonial boundaries between Cameroon and its neighbours Issues of intra and inter disciplinary frontiers politics and cultures are also addressed The volume is crowned by a farewell valedictory lecture by Fanso Like Fanso and his rich repertoire of publications this bumper harvest of essays is without doubt truly immortalising

Improving Learning in Secondary Schools Kenneth Ndifor Tangie, 2015-09-10 Improving Learning in Secondary Schools brings together in a succinct comprehensive and thought provoking manner several dimensions of classroom assessment feedback in one volume It is based on the principle that students need feedback on their work and conduct at school in order to be able to correct misconceptions and omissions that can render them incapable of making progress and learning in a given subject The book reports on a doctoral study that examined teachers feedback practice and its relation to student learning in secondary schools It presents a critical fine grained classification and analysis of positive neutral and negative feedback categories in teacher talk and writing which could generate a globally applicable typology and theory of classroom feedback For some time now formative assessment generated feedback has been widely recommended for classrooms thanks mainly to compelling research based evidence showing the relative merits of formative assessment types over more traditional summative assessment practices In this book it is suggested that the time has come to depart from such arguments because the mere presence of feedback in teacher talk and writing be it formative or summative is not enough to support learning Feedback like formal and informal instruction and assessment is not mediated in vacuo it is a social process taking place in a social setting conducted by on and for social actors One must also consider the context especially the linguistic and socio cultural environment in which assessment feedback and learning occur but which also acts as a barrier and facilitator to successful feedback provision and uptake This argument should constitute a starting point for reflection debate and research into the effectiveness for learning of classroom assessment feedback Therefore whilst complementing previous work on this subject this book makes significant additions to a very important aspect of school life Primary and secondary school teachers university students academics and researchers as well as educationists and policy makers in the domain of educational assessment will find in it an inseparable companion and resource tool     Advanced

Population Geography Celestine N. Tata, 2005     Children, Their Schools and What They Learn on Beginning Primary School Genevoix Nana, 2013-11-13 This research is a pioneering study in comparative education in the context of Cameroon in particular and Africa in general which highlights present day school and classroom instances of language socialisation as instantiating Anglophone and Francophone education traditions in their representation of the British and French educational legacies from the colonial era Its findings point to practices specific to each study site and to Anglophone and Francophone subsystems of education as they translate local national and global education perspectives and parallel Anglophone and Francophone cultures writ large The narrative analysis and findings of this study are therefore of relevance to educational communities in other countries as issues of language socialisation ideology identity bilingualism multilingualism and comparative education are raised from a language and culture learning angle The findings of this work also present emerging patterns of communal practices resulting from the coexistence of both subsystems of education while the empirical data presented expose an inadequacy between official bilingualism discourse and its implementation in schools which may have a significant impact on future orientation of this policy in schools in Cameroon This book will be useful to scholars interested in the fields of language socialisation and comparative education in general and in Africa and Cameroon in particular It will also be of interest to language policymakers in the context of Cameroon as data from schools indicate that official bilingualism practice does not echo policy discourse and problematises the construct of a Cameroonian identity as constitutive of Anglophone Francophone and local cultures The data report however shows that the paradigm shift in teachers perceptions about the value of languages apparently influenced pupils attitudes towards the various languages to which they were being socialised both at home and in school and particularly shaped their understanding of the necessity of learning the second official language
