Hokanson, Gregory Clinton, Andrew A. Tawfik, Amy Grincewicz, Matthew Schmidt, 2020-04-09 This book is the outcome of a research symposium sponsored by the Association for Educational Communications and Technology AECT Consisting of twenty four chapters including an introduction and conclusion it argues that informational content should not be the main element of education and that to provide more for learners it is necessary to go beyond content and address other skills and capabilities It also discusses the false premise that learning is complete when the information is known not when learners seek more their own directions answers and ideas The authors assert that the ability to synthesize solve problems and generate ideas is not based on specific content although education often focuses solely on teaching content Further they state that content can be separated from the learning process and that instructional design and educational technology must be about the skills habits and beliefs to be learned Advanced Introduction to Planning Theory Robert A.

Beauregard, 2020-04-24 In this original approach to the world of planning theory Robert A Beauregard cuts across the many different ways to think about planning by organizing them around four core tasks knowing engaging prescribing and executing In doing so Beauregard explores how a basic concern with the relationship between knowledge and action has evolved into a complex discussion of democracy inclusion and justice Reshaping the World Ernesto Castañeda, 2021-03-16 This volume provides information and analyses to better grasp the social implications of geographical borders as well as the individuals who travel between them and those who live in border regions Sociologists anthropologists philosophers linguists and scholars of international relations and public health are just some of the authors contributing to Rethinking Borders The diversity in the authors disciplines and the topics they focus on exemplify the intricacies of borders and their manifold effects This openness to so many schools of thought stands in contrast to the solidification of stricter borders across the globe The contributions range from case studies of migrants sense of belonging and safety to theoretical discussions about migration and globalization from empirical studies about immigrant practices and exclusionary laws to ethical concerns about the benefits of inclusion It is timely that this collective work is published in the middle of a pandemic that has affected every single part of the world Unprecedented border closures and stringent travel restrictions have not been enough to contain the virus entirely As COVID 19 shows diseases ideas and xenophobic and racist discourses know no borders Plans that transcend borders are vital when dealing with global threats such as climate change and pandemics Economic Development for Everyone Mark M. Miller, 2017-05-09 How do we create employment grow businesses and build greater economic resilience in our low income communities How do we create economic development for everyone everywhere including rural towns inner city neighborhoods aging suburbs and regions such as Appalachia American Indian reservations the Mexican border and the Mississippi Delta and not just in elite communities Economic Development for Everyone collects organizes and reviews much of the current research available on creating economic development in low income communities Part I offers an overview of the harsh realities facing low income communities in the US today their many economic and social challenges debates on whether to try reviving local economies vs relocating residents and current trends in economic development that emphasize high tech industry and high levels of human capital Part II organizes the sprawling literature of applied economic development research into a practical framework of five dynamic dimensions empower your residents begin with basic education enhance your community build on existing assets encourage your entrepreneurs diversify your economy and sustain your development This book assembled and presented in a unified framework will be invaluable for students and new researchers of economic development in low income communities and will offer new perspectives for established researchers professional economic developers and planners and public officials Development practitioners and community leaders will also find new ideas and opportunities along with a broad view on how the many complex parts of economic development interconnect The Comprehensive Autism Planning System (CAPS) Shawn Henry, Brenda Smith Myles, 2024-08-06

The Comprehensive Autism Planning System for Individuals CAPS is a reflection of its creator In his role as a state and national leader Shawn Henry serves as an advocate for autistic individuals Shawn and co author Brenda Smith Myles clearly describe each element of the CAPS model in a well organized text Throughout the book the authors and expert contributors highlight a variety of evidence based strategies that correspond to each area of the CAPS The CAPS model illustrates their ability to create meaningful change through realistic and practical means It s a simple yet powerful system This innovative approach helps teachers and educational teams plan and implement a student s education across the school including the Individualized Education Program IEP and the curriculum relevant to the student It takes the team through the process of planning out the goals objectives to be targeted in each activity of the day the modifications and accommodations that should be provided to support the student in each activity the sensory supports needed to help the student stay engaged and the communication and social supports for successful learning It shows the type of data to collect for each area and helps to note what reinforcers have been shown to be successful While this system was developed for use with individuals on the autism spectrum it can also be an essential tool for any student regardless of the types of supports and needs they have There are also vocational and transitional formats that are available for students making the transition to work The CAPS has been updated to address current trends in special education instruction and research In this edition emphasis is placed on Inclusion Successful practices that support learning for autistic students Updated evidence based practices and case studies that apply the CAPS system to post secondary education and employment Through the CAPS autistic individuals have access to meaningful instruction that will allow them to reach their potential

Reframing the Reclaiming of Urban Space Megan E. Heim LaFrombois, 2017-11-30 In Reframing the Reclaiming of Urban Space A Feminist Exploration into Do It Yourself Urbanism in Chicago Megan E Heim LaFrombois explores the concept of do it yourself DIY urbanism from an intersectional feminist analytical framework Interventions based on DIY urbanism are small scale and place specific and focus on urban spaces which can be reclaimed and repurposed often outside of formal urban planning institutions Heim LaFrombois examines the discourses and processes surrounding the institutionalized and embedded nature of DIY urbanism She weaves together sites and sources to reveal the ways in which DIY urbanists make sense of their participation and experiences with DIY urbanism and with the broader political social and economic contexts and spaces in which these activities take place Her research findings contribute to and build on current research that illustrates the importance of gender race class and sexuality to cities local politics urban planning initiatives and the development of communities

Introduction to Cities Xiangming Chen, Anthony M. Orum, Krista E. Paulsen, 2018-04-30 The revised and updated second edition of Introduction to Cities explores why cities are such a vital part of the human experience and how they shape our everyday lives Written in engaging and accessible terms Introduction to Cities examines the study of cities through two central concepts that cities are places where people live form communities and establish their own identities and that they are spaces such as the inner city and the suburb that offer a way to configure and shape the material world and natural environment Introduction to Cities covers the theory of cities from an historical perspective right through to the most recent theoretical developments The authors offer a balanced account of life in cities and explore both positive and negative themes In addition the text takes a global approach with examples ranging from Berlin and Chicago to Shanghai and Mumbai The book is extensively illustrated with updated maps charts tables and photographs This new edition also includes a new section on urban planning as well as new chapters on cities as contested spaces exploring power and politics in an urban context It contains information on the status of poor and marginalized groups and the impact of neoliberal policies material on gender and sexuality and presents a greater range of geographies with more attention to European Latin American and African cities Revised and updated Introduction to Cities provides a complete introduction to the history evolution and future of our modern cities

Everyday Equalities Ruth Fincher, Kurt Iveson, Helga Leitner, Valerie Preston, 2019-08-13 A timely new look at coexisting without assimilating in multicultural cities If city life is a being together of strangers what forms of being together should we strive for in cities with ethnic and racial diversity Everyday Equalities seeks evidence of progressive political alternatives to racialized inequality that are emerging from everyday encounters in Los Angeles Melbourne Sydney and Toronto settler colonial cities that established through efforts to dispossess and eliminate indigenous societies have been destinations for waves of immigrants from across the globe ever since Everyday Equalities finds such alternatives being developed as people encounter one another in the process of making a home earning a living moving around the city and forming collective actions or communities Here four leading scholars in critical urban geography come together to deliver a powerful and cohesive message about the meaning of equality in contemporary cities Drawing on both theoretical reflection and urban ethnographic research they offer the formulation being together in difference as equals as a normative frame to reimagine the meaning and pursuit of equality in today s urban multicultures As the examples in Everyday Equalities indicate much emotional labor combined with a willingness to learn from each other negotiate across differences and agitate for change goes into constructing environments that foster being together in difference as equals Importantly the authors argue a commitment to equality is not only a hope for a future city but also a way of being together in the present

Planning Local Economic Development Nancey Green Leigh, Edward J. Blakely, 2016-11-23 Written by authors with years of academic regional and city planning experience the classic Planning Local Economic Development has laid the foundation for practitioners and academics working in planning and policy development for generations With deeper coverage of sustainability and resiliency the new Sixth Edition explores the theories of local economic development while addressing the issues and opportunities faced by cities towns and local entities in crafting their economic destinies within the global economy Nancey Green Leigh and Edward J Blakely provide a thoroughly up to date exploration of planning processes analytical techniques and data and locality business and human resource development as well as advanced technology and sustainable economic development strategies
