2015 Application On Tshwane North College

Oliver J.J. Seale

2015 Application On Tshwane North College:

Fees Must Fall Susan Booysen, 2016-10-01 This book explores the student discontent a year after the start of the 2015 South African FeesMustFall revolt. FeesMustFall the student revolt that began in October 2015 was an uprising against lack of access to and financial exclusion from higher education in South Africa. More broadly it radically questioned the socio-political dispensation resulting from the 1994 social pact between big business, the ruling elite and the liberation movement. The 2015 revolt links to national and international youth struggles of the recent past and is informed by black consciousness politics and social movements of the international left. Yet its objectives are more complex than those of earlier struggles. The student movement has challenged the hierarchical top down leadership system of university management and its double speak of professing to act in workers and students interests yet entrenching a regressive system for control and governance. University managements while on one level amenable to change have also co-opted students into their ranks to create co-responsibility for the highly bureaucratised university financial aid that stands in the way of their social revolution. This book maps the contours of student discontent a year after the start of the FeesMustFall revolt. Student voices dissect colonialism, improper compromises by the founders of democratic South Africa, feminism, worker rights and meaningful education. In depth assessments by prominent scholars reflect on the complexities of student activism, its impact on national and university governance and offer provocative analyses of the power of the revolt. Application of Nanotechnology in Mining Processes

Elvis Fosso-Kankeu, Martin Mkandawire, Bhekile B. Mamba, 2022-03-02 b Application of Nanotechnology in Mining Processes Nanotechnology has revolutionized processes in many industries but its application in the mining industry has not been widely discussed. This unique book provides an overview of the successful implementation of nanotechnology in some of the key environmental and beneficiation mining processes. This book explores extensively the potential of nanotechnology to revolutionize the mining industry which has been relying for a very long on processes with limited efficiencies. The nine specialized chapters focus on applying nanoflotation to improve mineral processing, effective extraction of metals from leachates or pregnant solutions using nanoscale supramolecular hosts and development of nano adsorbents or nano based strategies for the remediation or valorization of AMD. The application of nanotechnology in mining has so far received little attention from the industry and researchers and this groundbreaking book features critical issues so far under reported in the literature. Application of nanotechnology in mineral processing for the enhancement of froth flotation. Development of smart nanomaterials and application for the treatment of acid mine drainage. Recovery of values from pregnant solutions using nano adsorbents. Valorization of AMD through formation of multipurpose nanoproducts. Audience: Industrial interest will be from mining plant operators, environmental managers, water treatment plants managers and operators. Researchers in nanotechnology, environmental science, mining and metallurgy engineering will find the book valuable as will government entities such as regulatory bodies, officers and environmentalists. Indigenous knowledge systems and climate change management in Africa Ajayi, O.C. (ed), Mafongoya, P.L. (ed), 2017-11-15 Climate change presents a profound challenge to food security and sustainable development in Africa. Its negative impacts are likely to be greatest in the African region which is already food insecure. In the face of global climate change and its emerging challenges and unknowns, it is essential that decision makers base policies on the best available knowledge. In recent years, the knowledge of local and indigenous people, often referred to as indigenous knowledge (IK), has been increasingly recognised as an important source of climate knowledge and adaptation strategies.

New Models for Technical and Vocational Education and Training Makgato, Moses, Afeti, George, 2020-12-18 Technical and vocational education and training at technical schools are major contributing factors in combating poverty, unemployment and inequality. The primary purpose of technical and vocational education and training is to prepare students and learners for the world of work and for a smooth transition from education institutions into the workplace. As the Fourth Industrial Revolution continues to create more radical changes in the labor market, experts are calling for a reform of education including vocational education and training and adult and professional education. New Models for Technical and Vocational Education and Training is an essential scholarly research book that examines TVET and CET colleges and programs that provide intermediate skills to enhance students' chances of employability and entrepreneurship in Industry 4.0. The book explores knowledge in respect to workforce preparation, digital skills development, teaching and learning of TVET, flexibility and articulation of TVET to respond to work, integrated learning and reskilling and upskilling to avoid skill mismatches. It is ideal for TVET schools, academicians, curriculum designers, managers, training officers, administrators, vocational professionals, researchers and students.

Deanship in the Global South Oliver J.J. Seale, 2021-02-08 The university today is a postmodern, neo-liberal, competitive, boundary-less knowledge conglomerate, a far cry from its historical, traditional, classical and collegial roots. There is a body of literature on deanship that points to its evolving nature in the contemporary academe, characterised by complexity and change. Balancing academic demands simultaneously with the requirements for effective performance, leadership and management lies at the heart of this very challenging bridging role. Nowadays, Deans are generally former academics emerging from a traditional collegial space and often catapulted into the relatively unknown domain of executive management with its related problems. Deans nowadays are required to be more than collegial intellectual leaders. They are also meant to be fiscal and human resource experts, fundraisers, politicians and diplomats. Deanship in the Global South: Bridging Troubled Waters is about the deans' lived reality as they try to balance the demands of both the academe from which they emerge and the administration to whom they now need to account. Their lack of preparation and inadequate support points to the need for a more strategic, integrated approach to leadership development within their critical bridging roles between the academe and administration.
