Wang,2020-04-15 Additive manufacturing AM is one of the manufacturing processes that warrants the attention of industrialists researchers and scientists because of its ability to produce materials with a complex shape without theoretical restrictions and with added functionalities There are several advantages to employing additive manufacturing as the primary additive manufacturing process However there exist several challenges that need to be addressed systematically A couple such issues are alloy design and process development Traditionally alloys designed for conventional cast powder metallurgical processes were fabricated using advanced AM processes This is the wrong approach considering that the alloys should be coined based on the process characteristics and meta stable nature of the process Hence we must focus on alloy design and development for AM that suits the AM processes The AM processes however improve almost every day either in terms of processing capabilities or processing conditions Hence the processing part warrants a section that is devoted to these advancements and innovations Accordingly the present Special Issue book focuses on two aspects of alloy development and process innovations Here 45 articles are presented covering different AM processes including selective laser melting electron beam melting laser cladding direct metal laser sintering ultrasonic consolidation wire arc additive manufacturing and hybrid manufacturing I believe that this Special Issue bears is vital to the field of AM and will be a valuable addition
