and the Middle Ages Boston University Journal ,1980 Containing Multitudes Eva Nyström,2009 This study employs as its primary source a codex from Uppsala University Library Codex Upsaliensis Graecus 8 Its aim is to contribute to a better understanding of the Late Byzantine and post Byzantine miscellaneous book It is argued that multitext books reflect the time and society in which they were created A thorough investigation of such books sheds light on the interests and concerns of the scribes owners and readers of the books Containing some ninety texts of different character and from different genres Codex Upsaliensis Graecus 8 is a complex creation but still an example of a type of book that was common during the Middle Ages and the Renaissance This study takes a comprehensive view of the book in its entirety making sense of its different parts in relation to the whole with the help of codicology and textual analysis With that approach the original idea of the book is brought to the fore and the texts are studied in the same context that the main scribe Theodoros chose and the early owners and readers of the book encountered Through a systematic codicological analysis the overall structure of the codex is explored and suggestions are made concerning the provenance The examination of the scribal work procedure becomes a means to profile this otherwise fairly unknown scribe The texts are grouped and characterized typologically to illustrate connections throughout the whole book as well as in relation to the separate structural units The role of micro texts and secondary layers of inscription is also considered From the perspective of usability the texts are divided into four categories narrative texts rhetorical texts philosophical theological texts and practical texts Three texts are studied in greater depth as examples of the width of the scribe s interests and the variety of the book s contents Science and Its Times Neil Schlager,2000 Exploration and Discovery Life Sciences Mathematics Medicine Physical Sciences Technology and Invention The Living Age ,1885
