The Reading Lives of Teens Chin Ee Loh, 2024-11-04 In these changing times of global flows of media and technologies and reports of declining reading enjoyment researchers policymakers and educators need to engage anew with essential issues of what counts as reading what kinds of reading matter and how to support teen reading engagement in school and out of school settings Bringing together contributions from well known and emerging adolescent literacy researchers from different disciplinary perspectives this edited collection consolidates contemporary research on teens volitional print and digital reading whether in school or out of school contexts The first part of the book offers overviews of what teens are reading followed by chapters on community support on reading and new ways of researching teen reading With chapters from North America Europe Australia Asia and the Middle East the collection will offer multifaceted and complex insights into what how and why teens read in different contexts Reflection questions at the end of each chapter encourage readers to consider how the research can be applied in their own research policy and practice contexts This book will be of interest to researchers policymakers and educators who are invested in supporting adolescent engaged reading with evidence based policies and strategies

Filterworld Kyle Chayka, 2025-01-21 From New Yorker staff writer and author of The Longing for Less Kyle Chayka comes a timely history and investigation of a world ruled by algorithms which determine the shape of culture itself From trendy restaurants to city grids to TikTok and Netflix feeds the world round algorithmic recommendations dictate our experiences and choices The algorithm is present in the familiar neon signs and exposed brick of Internet cafes be it in Nairobi or Portland and the skeletal modern furniture of Airbnbs in cities big and small Over the last decade this network of mathematically determined decisions has taken over almost unnoticed informing the songs we listen to the friends with whom we stay in touch as we've grown increasingly accustomed to our insipid new normal This ever tightening web woven by algorithms is called Filterworld Kyle Chayka shows us how online and offline spaces alike have been engineered for seamless consumption becoming a source of pervasive anxiety in the process Users of technology have been forced to contend with data driven equations that try to anticipate their desires and often get them wrong What results is a state of docility that allows tech companies to curtail human experiences human lives for profit But to have our tastes behaviors and emotions governed by computers while convenient does nothing short of call the very notion of free will into question In Filterworld Chayka traces this creeping machine guided curation as it infiltrates the furthest reaches of our digital physical and psychological spaces With algorithms increasingly influencing not just what culture we consume but what culture is produced urgent questions arise What happens when shareability supersedes messiness innovation and creativity the qualities that make us human What does it mean to make a choice when the options have been so carefully arranged for us Is personal freedom possible on the Internet To the last question Filterworld argues

yes but to escape Filterworld and even transcend it we must first understand it Child as Citizen Giuliana Fenech, 2025-08-15 Contributions by Daniela Brockdorff Nina Christensen Jill Coste Katrin Dautel Justyna Deszcz Tryhubczak Giuliana Fenech Naomi Hamer Irena Barbara Kalla Anne Klomberg Sonali Kulkarni Elizabeth Leach Leung Ann Marie Murnaghan Emily Murphy Emilie Owens Nicola Parker Patrycja Poniatowska Meg Rosoff and Farriba Schulz Child as Citizen Agency and Activism in Children s Literature and Culture addresses children s and young adult agency and activism across literature and culture demonstrating how these forces influence child citizenship Contributors to this volume highlight the agentic voices and activist practices that are growing across all spheres of young people s lives as well as the challenges to active citizenship that children growing up in unjust sociopolitical contexts face The volume is interdisciplinary and draws on the sociology of childhood children s literature studies youth culture studies media technology and cultural studies and Anthropocene ecofeminist and disability studies Agency occurs in and around literature and storytelling and this collection establishes how it is always influenced by identity as well as geopolitics how it is both subjective and collective how it is cultural and embodied and how like citizenship it is not a static status but rather an ongoing negotiation In this collection contributors invite readers to consider agency as a system of relations between children themselves between children and adults children and institutions and children and nation states as well as between children and the nonhuman This book reviews the interconnectedness between these relationships and attempts to untangle some of the complications that emerge
