Matters of Justice Helga Baitenmann,2020-05-01 After the fall of the Porfirio Díaz regime pueblo representatives sent hundreds of petitions to Pres Francisco I Madero demanding that the executive branch of government assume the judiciary's control over their unresolved lawsuits against landowners local bosses and other villagers The Madero administration tried to use existing laws to settle land conflicts but always stopped short of invading judicial authority In contrast the two main agrarian reform programs undertaken in revolutionary Mexico those implemented by Emiliano Zapata and Venustiano Carranza subordinated the judiciary to the executive branch and thereby reshaped the postrevolutionary state with the support of villagers who actively sided with one branch of government over another In Matters of Justice Helga Baitenmann offers the first detailed account of the Zapatista and Carrancista agrarian reform programs as they were implemented in practice at the local level and then reconfigured in response to unanticipated inter and intravillage conflicts Ultimately the Zapatista land reform which sought to redistribute land throughout the country remained an unfulfilled utopia In contrast Carrancista laws intended to resolve quickly an urgent problem in a time of war had lasting effects on the legal rights of millions of land beneficiaries and accidentally became the pillar of a program that redistributed about half the national territory

Sacred Space and Anglo-Turkish Relations John Fisher,2024-09-05 This work investigates how various sacred spaces in Ottoman and Republican Turkey interfaced with British foreign policy It considers how these spaces impacted upon British prestige in the context of its dealings with Turkey chiefly as well as other Great Powers The period covered is from the demise of the Levant Company in 1825 to the deconsecration of the Crimean Memorial Church in Istanbul in 1976 Other sacred spaces discussed include the British Embassy Chapel the Crimean War cemeteries various British churches and cemeteries in Izmir the Gallipoli cemeteries connected with the campaign of 1915 and the Phanar the Ecumenical Patriarch's home in Istanbul The book considers how and to what extent the Foreign Office in London and its staff in Turkey intervened to secure those spaces and why the politics of the Patriarchate intruded into the Foreign Office's geo strategic considerations It considers the limits of that support and how dealings over sacred space intermeshed generally with British policy towards Turkey It further explores the motives not just of diplomats and consuls who were instrumental in establishing or safeguarding those spaces but also the aims of other organisations and of expatriate Britons who were similarly involved It also considers instances where such support became attenuated or was withdrawn The book is unique in illuminating in a broad fashion the role of sacred space in the context of Anglo Turkish relations and British power projection in the Near East
