Cars & Parts, 1972      Monthly Catalog of United States Government Publications, 2003      Dictionary of Probation and Offender Management Rob Canton, David Hancock, 2013-06-17 Contemporary probation practice is developing rapidly and is becoming increasingly professionalized. Probation officers are typically described now as offender managers and the creation of NOMS National Offender Management Service has broadened the remit of the Probation Service. As well as bringing an increased emphasis on skills and qualifications it has also introduced a new set of ideas and concepts into the established probation lexicon including institutional, legal, political and theoretical terms of its own as well as importing concepts from the disciplines of sociology, criminology and psychology. This Dictionary is the essential reference book. This Dictionary is part of a new series of Dictionaries covering key aspects of criminal justice and the criminal justice system and designed to meet the needs of both students and practitioners. Approximately 300 entries of between 500 and 1500 words on key terms and concepts arranged alphabetically designed to meet the needs of both students and practitioners. Entries include summary definition, main text and key texts and sources. Takes full account of emerging occupational and Skills for Justice criteria. Edited by a leading academic and practitioner in the probation and offender management field. Entries contributed by leading academic and practitioners in probation and offender management.

Punishment in the Community Anne Worrall, Clare Hoy, 2013-01-11 This book aims to provide a critical analysis of both political and professional developments in policy and practice relating to non-custodial penalties taking full account of recent developments and the creation of a National Probation Service in 2002. Its aim is to unravel the complex institutional goals, the role of community punishment in the criminal justice system, professional goals, what can be achieved by community punishment and political goals, the packaging and sale of community punishment to the law-abiding public. The central focus is on principles and politics of community punishment and on the changing role of the probation service.

Special-interest Autos, 1972      Prisoner Resettlement Anthea Hucklesby, Lystra Hagley-Dickinson, 2012-12-06 Prisoner resettlement is high on current political and policy agendas. The high reconviction rates of ex-prisoners have been acknowledged for many years but the rapidly rising prison population has meant that more prisoners than ever before are released. This together with the pressure this puts on to the infrastructure of the prison estate and the publication of two influential reports which highlighted the problems faced by prisoners leaving prison has concentrated attention on attempts to ensure that prisoners do not return to prison once released. The resettlement of prisoners is now a priority policy area linked directly to Government initiatives to reduce reoffending. The renewed policy interest in prisoners' resettlement forms the context of this volume which brings together current knowledge and understanding about prisoners' resettlement. The book draws on the contributors' extensive experience as researchers and practitioners in the field and includes contributions from acknowledged experts. Prisoner Resettlement provides a comprehensive review and analysis of resettlement policy and practice in England.

and Wales in the early part of the 21st century In particular it critically reviews current policy theory practice and research on prisoners resettlement explores practice issues through case studies of two resettlement initiatives and an examination of accommodation provision and voluntary sector involvement in prisoners resettlement and examines the particular issues raised by the resettlement of different groups of prisoners including women minority ethnic groups prolific and priority offenders and high risk offenders Federal Register ,2002-07 Global Monitoring Ray Harris,Richard
