11. This was achieved by using the greatest number of students with scores greater than 1000. Specifically the greatest total of students with scores exceeding 1000 was 1000 by 10 students. In contrast, 1000 by 1 student would require using every student with a score greater than 1000. Therefore, the best solution would be to select 10 students with scores greater than 1000. This would give them a total score of 10000. The other two options would give a total score of 10000 + 1000 = 11000. This would be the best solution.
