In the Hands of a Child: Veterinary Science and Animal Care, Go Be a Writer! Candace R. Kuby, Tara Gutshall Rucker, 2016-04-15 This book provides an introduction to poststructural and posthumanist theories in order to imagine new possibilities for expanding literacy education The authors put to work these theories in the context of an elementary school classroom examining literacy based activities that occur as students participate with materials in a multimedia writers studio Focusing on literacy processes the book emphasizes the fluid and sometimes unintentional ways multimodal artifacts come into being through intra actions with human and nonhuman materials Because these theories emphasize the unplanned nonlinear aspects of literacy the authors demonstrate an approach to literacy that works against the grain of standardization and rigid curricular models Go Be a Writer reveals that when educators appreciate the value of unscripted intra actions they allow for more authentic learning

Application of Visual Data in K-16 Science Classrooms Kevin D. Finson, Jon Pedersen, 2015-03-01 This book examines visual data use with students PK 16 as well as in pre service in service science teacher preparation Each chapter includes discussion about the current state of the art with respect to science classroom application and utilization of the particular visual data targeted by the author s discussion and explanation about the targeted visual data as applied by the author in his her classroom use of visual data as a diagnostic tool its use as an assessment tool and discussion of implications for science teaching and or science teacher preparation Although the body of research and practice in this field is growing there remains a gap in the literature about clearly explicating the use of visual data in the science classroom A growing body of literature discusses what visual data are although this topic is still viewed as being at the beginning of its development in educators thinking and there are some scattered examples of studies exploring the use of visual data in science classrooms although those studies have not necessarily clearly identified their foci as visual data per se As interest and attention has become more focused on visual data a logical progression of questioning has been how visual data are actually applied in the science classroom whether it be early elementary college or somewhere in between Visual data applications of interest to the science education community include how it is identified how it can be used with students and how students can generate it themselves how it can be employed as a diagnostic tool in concept development and how it can be utilized as an assessment tool This book explores that as well as a variety of pragmatic ways to help science educators more effectively utilize visual data and representations in their instruction
