Theresa Lillis, Kathy Harrington

Academic Literacy And The Languages Of Change:

Academic Literacy and the Languages of Change Lucia Thesen, Ermien van Pletzen, 2006-05-16 This book is an analysis of student literacy in an academic setting and how this has changed due to political economic and social factors The contributors who are all engaged in academic literacy work at a South African university use the theoretical tradition of New Literacy Studies as developed by theorists such as James Gee Brian Street and Gnnther Kress and apply this to a case study of one university in the changing context of South Africa Academic Literacy and the Languages of Change will be of interest to postgraduates and academics researching sociolinguistics or language and education Working with Academic

Literacies Theresa Lillis, Kathy Harrington, 2015-11-04 The editors and contributors to this collection explore what it means to adopt an academic literacies approach in policy and pedagogy Transformative practice is illustrated through case studies and critical commentaries from teacher researchers working in a range of higher education contexts from undergraduate to postgraduate levels across disciplines and spanning geopolitical regions including Australia Brazil Canada Catalu a Finland France Ireland Portugal South Africa the United Kingdom and the United States The Routledge Handbook of English for Academic Purposes Ken Hyland, Philip Shaw, 2016-01-29 The Routledge Handbook of English for Academic Purposes provides an accessible authoritative and comprehensive introduction to English for Academic Purposes EAP covering the main theories concepts contexts and applications of this fast growing area of applied linguistics Forty four chapters are organised into eight sections covering Conceptions of EAP Contexts for EAP EAP and language skills Research perspectives Pedagogic genres Research genres Pedagogic contexts Managing learning Authored by specialists from around the world each chapter focuses on a different area of EAP and provides a state of the art review of the key ideas and concepts Illustrative case studies are included wherever possible setting out in an accessible way the pitfalls challenges and opportunities of research or practice in that area Suggestions for further reading are included with each chapter The Routledge Handbook of English for Academic Purposes is an essential reference for advanced undergraduate and postgraduate students of EAP within English Applied Linguistics and TESOL The Routledge Companion to English Studies Constant Leung, Brian V Street, 2014-03-14 English is now a global phenomenon no longer defined by fixed territorial cultural and social functions The Routledge Companion to English Studies provides an authoritative overview of the subject area Taking into account the changing conceptualisations of English this Companion considers both historical trajectories and contemporary perspectives whilst also showcasing the state of the art contributions made by the established scholars of the field The Routledge Companion to English Studies provides a set of broad perspectives on English as a subject of study and research highlights the importance of the link between English and other languages within the concepts of multilingualism and polylingualism investigates the use of language in communication through the medium of digital technology covering key issues such as Digital Literacies Multimodal Literacies and Games and Broadcast Language explores the role of English in education taking account of social ethnographic and global perspectives on pedagogical issues This collection of thirty four newly commissioned articles provides a comprehensive and up to date picture of the dynamic and diverse field of English Studies and will be an invaluable text for advanced students and researchers in this area Negotiating Academic Literacies Vivian Zamel,Ruth Spack,2012-08-06 Negotiating Academic Literacies Teaching and Learning Across Languages and Cultures is a cross over volume in the literature between first and second language literacy This anthology of articles brings together different voices from a range of publications and fields and unites them in pursuit of an understanding of how academic ways of knowing are acquired The editors preface the collection of readings with a conceptual framework that reconsiders the current debate about the nature of academic literacies In this volume the term academic literacies denotes multiple approaches to knowledge including reading and writing critically College classrooms have become sites where a number of languages and cultures intersect This is the case not only for students who are in the process of acquiring English but for all learners who find themselves in an academic situation that exposes them to a new set of expectations This book is a contribution to the effort to discover ways of supporting learning across languages and cultures and to transform views about what it means to teach and learn to read and write and to think and know Unique to this volume is the inclusion of the perspectives of writers as well as those of teachers and researchers Furthermore the contributors reveal their own struggles and accomplishments as they themselves have attempted to negotiate academic literacies The chronological ordering of articles provides a historical perspective demonstrating ways in which issues related to teaching and learning across cultures have been addressed over time The readings have consistency in terms of quality depth and passion they raise important philosophical questions even as they consider practical classroom applications The editors provide a series of questions that enable the reader to engage in a generative and exciting process of reflection and inquiry This book is both a reference for teachers who work or plan to work with diverse learners and a text for graduate level courses primarily in bilingual and ESL studies composition studies English education and literacy studies Academic Language! Academic Literacy! Eli R. Johnson,2009-06-24 Academic language and literacy are essential keys to conceptual understanding and ultimately to student success Eli Johnson provides a foundation that all teachers and school leaders can use for improvement that will reach every classroom and every student Peter Dallas Finch Assistant Superintendent West Valley School District Yakima WA Develop students understanding of academic language and watch literacy skills soar To achieve higher levels of learning students must be able to understand academic language the formalized language of instruction found in classrooms textbooks and standardized tests Eli R Johnson conveys a powerful message of the need for teachers to provide explicit academic language instruction for all students especially English language learners or those struggling with reading Filled with 36 hands on strategies this practical solidly researched guide helps teachers make the critical connection between academic language literacy and student achievement for all learners regardless of home language or socioeconomic status Explained in reader friendly terms each strategy helps teachers give their students the tools and skills necessary to decipher academic language in reading writing listening and speaking This K 12 book also includes A strategy matrix to help teachers select appropriate strategies for their grade level A description of each strategy with information on how it works in the classroom and why it is effective Collaborative protocols to help infuse academic language throughout the content areas Lists of words that can be introduced at each grade level to build students vocabulary Academic Language Academic Literacy helps teachers instruct students on the language of education so they have a chance to demonstrate what they know and experience success

Sociolinguistics of Writing Theresa Lillis, 2013-03-11 Brings the study of writing to the heart of sociolinguistic inquiry This book puts writing at the centre of sociolinguistic inquiry drawing on a range of academic fields including New Literacy Studies semiotics genre studies stylistics and new rhetoric The key question the book explores is what do we mean by writing in the 21 century Using examples from across a range of contexts the book argues that writing involving both old and new technologies is a pervasive and complex communicative feature of contemporary life The book is organised around the following areas The multimodal nature of writing The verbal dimension to writing Writing as everyday practice Writing as a differentiated semiotic and social resource Writing as the inscription of identity A range of analytic tools for analysing writing as text and practice are illustrated including genre register discourse and metaphor as well as notions which emphasise the mobile potential of writing such as genre chains networks literacy brokers and text trajectories This book seeks to redress the neglect of writing in the field of sociolinguistics by introducing readers to the nature and consequences of what it means to do writing in a globalised world

Assessing Academic Literacy in a Multilingual Society Albert Weideman, John Read, Theo du Plessis, 2020-11-02 South African universities face major challenges in meeting the needs of their students in the area of academic language and literacy The dominant medium of instruction in the universities is English and to a much lesser extent Afrikaans but only a minority of the national population are native speakers of these languages Nine other languages can be media of instruction in schools which makes the transition to tertiary education difficult enough in itself for students from these schools The focus of this book is on procedures for assessing the academic language and literacy levels and needs of students not in order to exclude students from higher education but rather to identify those who would benefit from further development of their ability in order to undertake their degree studies successfully The volume also aims to bring the innovative solutions designed by South African educators to a wider international audience

Changing Spaces Arlene Archer, Rose Richards, 2011-07-01 Changing Spaces makes a forceful and credible case for the role of writing centres in engaging with students staff and institutional structures in understanding issues of access from a social perspective This is a specialist book for those working in writing centres and for academics of all disciplines It is based on research and provides an important set of theoretical arguments developed through reflection on writing centre practices about student writing and the work of the university Professor Sioux McKenna Centre for Higher Education Research Teaching and Learning Rhodes University How do we select and train tutors How do we work with faculty How do we combat the image that we are remedial a fix it shop How do we prove our worth How do we show that we improve retention Changing Spaces demonstrates the flexibility of writing centers and the unique roles they play in South Africa Writing centers everywhere represent institutional responses to the learning needs of their students and they do so because writing centers adapt easily to different contexts and situations They meet students where they are as a group and individually Professor Leigh Ryan Writing Center Director University of Maryland USA Multilingualism, Language in Education, and Academic Literacy Adika, Gordon S.K., Asante, Charles C., 2015-04-02 The Language Centre was founded in 1970 as a language research department in the University of Ghana under the then Faculty of Arts Its mandate was to focus on research and teaching related to the improvement of performance in English the official language and the various Ghanaian languages as vectors of education culture and community interaction Since the 1970s the Centre has been focusing on research related to language learning teaching and assessment language endangerment and documentation multilingualism intercultural communication and the interconnected areas of language and literature This book in essence reflects these research areas but more than that the constitutive research articles were produced jointly or severally by different generations of directors and research fellows of the Centre over the four decades of the organization's existence The ten chapters of this commemorative anthology comprise selected research articles from a very large pool of previously published works with continuing relevance as well as more recent works that have not yet been published The book is not designed for release as a discrete and independent publication On the contrary it feeds into a much wider set of commemorative collections from diverse units all of which are thematically linked in a manner designed to project the mission of the University of Ghana
