Assessment in Education Shelleyann Scott, Donald E. Scott, Charles F. Webber, 2015-10-20 This book provides key insights into how educational leaders can successfully navigate the turbulence of political debate surrounding leading student assessment and professionalised practice Given the highly politicised nature of assessment it addresses leaders and aspiring leaders who are open to being challenged willing to explore controversy and capable of engaging in informed critical discourse The book presents the macro concepts that these audiences must have to guide optimal assessment policy and practice Collectively the chapters highlight important assessment purposes and models including intended and unintended effects of assessment in a globalised context The book provides opportunities to explore cultural similarities and particularities It invites readers to challenge taken for granted assumptions about ourselves and colleagues in other settings The chapters highlight the cultural clashes that may occur when cross cultural borrowing of assessment strategies policies and tools takes place However authors also encourage sophisticated critical analyses of potential lessons that may be drawn from other contexts and systems Readers will encounter challenges from authors to deconstruct their assessment values beliefs and preconceptions Indeed one purpose of the book is to destabilise certainties about assessment that prevail and to embrace the assessment possibilities that can emerge from cognitive dissonance

Making Connections Marilyn Naidoo, 2021-11-19 Because of the disconnect within the curriculum and the lack of contextual relevance African theological education is still searching for appropriate approaches to ministerial training Integrative theological education refers to systematic attempts to connect major learning experiences appropriate to the education and formation of ministers It is seen as a solution to connect and transform ministry training The main premise of this book is that the key to enhancing theological education is the intentional integration of knowing with being and doing of theory with practice and of theology with life and ministry In this way all aspects of student learning are brought together holistically highlighting an educational strategy that is concerned with connections in human experience thereby supporting student learning Making Connections offers the opportunity to consider integration as an appropriate pedagogical approach to create the correct balance in making education more meaningful and fulfilling for the African revealing humanising education grounded in African philosophy and worldview
