Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander School Teachers and Australian Settler Colonialism Kay

Whitehead, 2025-09-11 This book addresses the gap in our historical knowledge about the roles Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander teachers have played in Australia's history of school education To date there are few references to schooling in histories of Indigenous Australians and Australian histories of Indigenous education and teacher education omit Indigenous teachers until systemic initiatives were introduced to recruit and qualify them in the 1970s This book reinstates and honours Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people who worked as school teachers from invasion to contemporary state school systems The book is structured chronologically to explore Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander teachers' lives and work in relation to settler colonial policies of segregation and protection assimilation and self-determination and education policy and practice The chapters span the nineteenth century to contemporary times and show the systemic challenges Indigenous people faced in becoming qualified teachers and joining the profession Stories of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander teachers from different geographic regions communities and historical periods foreground their agency including their political activism and take account of localised cultural and education contexts This insightful book is recommended for upper level undergraduates and academics in Indigenous education history of education teacher education and teachers' work It will also appeal to readers with a general interest in Australian Indigenous history Pedagogies to Enhance

Learning for Indigenous Students Robyn Jorgensen, Peter Sullivan, Peter Grootenboer, 2012-11-19 This book describes research undertaken by leading Australian researchers in Indigenous communities While the chapters are Australian in their focus the issues that are discussed are similar to those in other countries where there are Indigenous people In most cases in Australia and internationally Indigenous learners are not succeeding in school thus making the transition into work and adulthood quite tenuous in terms of mainstream measures The importance of being literate and numerate are critical in success in school and life in general thus making this collection an important contribution to the international literature The collection of works describes a wide range of projects where the focus has been on improving the literacy and numeracy outcomes for Indigenous students The chapters take various approaches to improving these outcomes and have very different foci These foci include aspects of literacy numeracy curriculum leadership ICTs whole school planning policy linguistics and Indigenous perspectives Most of the chapters report on large scale projects that have used some innovation in their focus The book draws together these projects so that a more connected sense of the complexities and diversity of approaches can be gleaned Indigenous Education Nina Burridge, Frances Whalan, Karen Vaughan, 2012-12-23 Education is an essential pathway to bridging the divide in educational attainment between Indigenous and non Indigenous students In the Australian policy contexts Indigenous Education has been informed by a large number of reviews reports and an extensive list of projects aimed at improving educational outcomes for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander children Central to each has been the investigation of the inequity of access to educational resources the legacy of historical policies of exclusion and the lack of culturally responsive pedagogical practices that impact on Indigenous student achievement at school Research on best practice models for teaching Indigenous students points to the level of teachers commitment being a crucial link to student engagement in the classroom improvement of student self concept and student retention rates Most recently the Australian Institute for Teaching and School Leadership AITSL has recognized in the National Professional Standards for Teachers that practising teachers must attain skills in working with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander students and their communities Clearly it is time for new pedagogical practices in Indigenous education that are implemented in partnerships with local Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander communities This book reports on a three year research based study of action learning in schools that sought to enhance engagement with local Aboriginal communities promote quality teaching and improve students learning outcomes The school studies come from different demographic regions in New South Wales Australia s most populous state and showcase the achievements and challenges highs and lows affordances and obstacles in the development and delivery of innovative curriculum strategies for teaching Aboriginal histories and cultures in Australian schools The findings illustrate that engaging teachers in a learning journey in collaboration with academic partners and members of local Aboriginal communities in an action learning process can deliver innovative teaching programs over a sustained period of time As a result schools demonstrated that these approaches do produce positive educational outcomes for teachers and students and enable authentic partnerships with Aboriginal communities

Resources in Education

,2001-04 A Subject Index to Current Literature Australian Public Affairs Information Service, Crosscurrents in Australian First Nations and Non-Indigenous Art Sarah Scott,Helen McDonald,Caroline Jordan,2023-08-11 This edited collection examines art resulting from cross cultural interactions between Australian First Nations and non Indigenous people from the British invasion to today Focusing on themes of collaboration and dialogue the book includes two conversations between First Nations and non Indigenous authors and an historian s self reflexive account of mediating between traditional owners and an international art auction house to repatriate art There are studies of reverse appropriation by early nineteenth century Aboriginal carvers of tourist artefacts and the production of enigmatic toa Cross cultural dialogue is traced from the post war period to Aboriginalism in design and the First Nations fashion industry of today Transculturation conceptualism and collaboration are contextualised in the 1980s a pivotal decade for the growth of collaborative First Nations exhibitions Within the current circumstances of political protest in photographic portraiture and against the mining of sacred Aboriginal land Crosscurrents in Australian First Nations and Non Indigenous Art testifies to the need for Australian institutions to collaborate with First Nations people more often and better This book will appeal to students and scholars of art history Indigenous anthropology and museum and heritage studies Aboriginal Art and Australian Society Laura Fisher, 2016-05-30 This book is an investigation of the way the Aboriginal art phenomenon has been entangled with Australian society's negotiation of Indigenous people's status within the nation Through critical reflection on Aboriginal art's idiosyncrasies as a fine arts movement its vexed relationship with money and its mediation of the politics of identity and recognition this study illuminates the mutability of Aboriginal art's meanings in different settings It reveals that this mutability is a consequence of the fact that a range of governmental activist and civil society projects have appropriated the art's vitality and metonymic power in national public culture and that Aboriginal art is as much a phenomenon of visual and commercial culture as it is an art movement Throughout these examinations Fisher traces the utopian and dystopian currents of thought that have crystallised around the Aboriginal art movement and which manifest the ethical conundrums that underpin the settler state condition Claiming Ground Noel Frankham, 2005 Published by Quintus Publishing Limited a joint initiative of Arts Tasmania and the University of Tasmania this book showcases 80 of the more than 800 works of art commissioned under the Tasmanian Government's Art for Public Buildings Scheme The 112 pages feature more than 250 stunning colour photographs of the art works in situ and are testimony to the creativity of Tasmania's artists and the thriving art context in general APAIS 1992: Australian public affairs information service , Developing Literacy and the Arts in Schools Georgina Barton, 2019-07-31 The teaching of the arts and literacy in schools is often at odds with one another The desire for schools to improve results on high stakes testing can lead to a narrow view of literacy rather than one that acknowledges the unique and distinct literacies that exist in other curriculum areas including the arts With methods of communication becoming increasingly complex it will be more and more important for students to be able to utilise all semiotic modes Developing Literacy and the Arts in Schools investigates this key issue in education and offers a solution to the negative relationship between the arts and literacy Drawing on interview data and evidence from diverse classrooms it explores the pedagogies of effective arts practitioners and teachers and how they relate to theoretical frameworks to unpack the key elements of effective practice related to literacy and the arts A model of arts literacies is provided to assist arts and literacy educators in developing a common language that acknowledges and values these distinct arts literacies Themes of multimodality diversity aesthetics and reflection in relation to the arts and literacy are foregrounded throughout This book will be of great value to postgraduate students of Education specialising in arts and literacy education academics teacher educators and classroom and preservice teachers APAIS 1999: Australian public affairs information service , The Bulletin , 1993-11 Art and Performance in Oceania Barry Craig, Bernie Kernot, Christopher Anderson, 1999-12-01 The Fifth International Symposium of the Pacific Arts Association titled Art Performance and Society called for papers in sessions dealing with Production and Performance Social and Cultural Context

The Record and the Remainder and The Mission of Museums In all some sixty papers were presented twenty four of which have been included in this book The first two topics elicited several papers that explored the creative process including the description and analysis of performance and the taxonomy of objects used the transmission of cultural knowledge and the identity and work of individual artists The second two topics provided the opportunity for papers on some significant early museum collectors and collections various methods of documenting cultural material such as photography how cultural material has been and can be exhibited and the role of museums and cultural centers in Pacific Island countries

Thinking Through the Arts Wendy Schiller, 2004-06-01 Thinking Through the Arts draws together a number of different approaches to teaching young children that combine the experience of thinking with the act of expression through art Developed as an inclusive broad ranging and user friendly text Thinking Through the Arts presents the unique insight of teachers as researchers and counters the view that art is emotionally based and therefore irrelevant to thinking and learning The areas covered include drama dance music arts environments technologies museums and galleries literacy cognition international influences curriculum development research and practice Early childhood and primary teachers and students alike will find this book is an invaluable source of new insights for their own teaching

The Routledge Companion to Indigenous Art Histories in the United States and Canada Heather Igloliorte, Carla Taunton, 2022-12-30 This companion consists of chapters that focus on and bring forward critical theories and productive methodologies for Indigenous art history in North America This book makes a major and original contribution to the fields of Indigenous visual arts professional curatorial practice graduate level curriculum development and academic research The contributors expand create establish and define Indigenous theoretical and methodological approaches for the production discussion and writing of Indigenous art histories Bringing together scholars curators and artists from across the intersecting fields of Indigenous art history critical museology cultural studies and curatorial practice the companion promotes the study and dissemination of Indigenous art and stimulates new conversations on such key areas as visual sovereignty and self determination resurgence and resilience land based embodied and nation specific knowledges epistemologies and ontologies curatorial and museological methodologies language decolonization and Indigenization and collaboration consultation and mentorship

How Arts Education Makes a Difference Josephine Fleming, Robyn Gibson, Michael Anderson, 2015-12-22 This book presents ground breaking research on the ways the Arts fosters motivation and engagement in both academic and non academic domains It reports on mixed method international research that investigated how the Arts make a difference in the lives of young people Drawing on the findings of a longitudinal quantitative study led by the internationally renowned educational psychologist Andrew Martin the book examines the impact of arts involvement in the academic outcomes of 643 students and reports on the in depth qualitative research that investigates what constitutes best practice in learning and teaching in the Arts The book also examines drama dance music visual arts and film classrooms to construct an understanding of quality pedagogy in
