EBOOK: College Algebra with Trigonometry Raymond Barnett, Michael Ziegler, Karl Byleen, David Sobecki, 2010-03-16
Barnett Ziegler Byleen and Sobecki's College Algebra with Trigonometry text is designed to be user friendly and to maximize student comprehension by emphasizing computational skills ideas and problem solving as opposed to mathematical theory. The large number of pedagogical devices employed in this text will guide a student through the course. Integrated throughout the text students and instructors will find Explore Discuss boxes which encourage students to think critically about mathematical concepts. In each section the worked examples are followed by matched problems that reinforce the concept being taught. In addition the text contains an abundance of exercises and applications that will convince students that math is useful. A MathZone site featuring algorithmic exercises videos and other resources accompanies the text. Symbolic Computation And Education Shangzhi Li, Dongming Wang, Jing-zhong Zhang, 2007-10-17 With 14 chapters written by leading experts and educators this book covers a wide range of topics from teaching philosophy and curriculum development to symbolic and algebraic manipulation and automated geometric reasoning and to the design and implementation of educational software and integrated teaching and learning environments. The book may serve as a useful reference for researchers educators and other professionals interested in developing using and practising methodologies and software tools of symbolic computation for education from the secondary to the undergraduate level. Math Anxiety—How to Beat It! Brian Cafarella, 2025-06-23 How do we conquer uncertainty insecurity and anxiety over college mathematics? You can do it and this book can help. The author provides various techniques learning options and pathways. Students can overcome the barriers that thwart success in mathematics when they prepare for a positive start in college and lay the foundation for success. Based on interviews with over 50 students the book develops approaches to address the struggles and success these students shared. Then the author took these ideas and experiences and built a process for overcoming and achieving when studying not only the mathematics many colleges and universities require as a minimum for graduation but more to encourage reluctant students to look forward to their mathematics courses and even learn to embrace additional ones. Success breeds interest and interest breeds success. Math anxiety is based on test anxiety. The book provides proven strategies for conquering test anxiety. It will help find ways to interest students in succeeding in mathematics and assist instructors on pathways to promote student interest while helping them to overcome the psychological barriers they face. Finally the author shares how math is employed in the real world examining how both STEM and non STEM students can employ math in their lives and careers. Ultimately both students and teachers of mathematics will better understand and appreciate the difficulties and how to attack these difficulties to achieve success in college mathematics. Brian Cafarella Ph D is a mathematics professor at Sinclair Community College in Dayton Ohio. He has taught a variety of courses ranging from developmental math through pre calculus. Brian is a past recipient of the Roueche Award for teaching excellence. He is also a past recipient of the Ohio Magazine Award for excellence in education Brian has published in several peer reviewed journals His articles have focused on implementing best practices in developmental math and various math pathways for community college students Additionally Brian was the recipient of the Article of the Year Award for his article Acceleration and Compression in Developmental Mathematics Faculty Viewpoints in the Journal of Developmental Education
