Daisy Pillay, Inbanathan Naicker, Kathleen Pithouse-Morgan, 2016-02-10 Academic Autoethnographies Inside Teaching in Higher Education invites readers to experience autoethnography as a challenging complex and creative research methodology that can produce personally professionally and socially useful understandings of teaching and researching in higher education The peer reviewed chapters offer innovative and perspicacious explorations of interrelationships between personal autobiographies lived educational experiences and wider social and cultural concerns across diverse disciplines and university contexts This edited book is distinctive within the existing body of autoethnographic scholarship in that the original research presented has been done in relation to predominantly South African university settings This research is complemented by contributions from Canadian and Swedish scholars The sociocultural educational and methodological insights communicated in this book will be valuable for specialists in the field of higher education and to those in other academic domains who are interested in self reflexive transformative and creative research methodologies and methods This book illuminates how autoethnography can engage authors and researchers from varied epistemological backgrounds in a reflexive multilogue about who they are and what they do The creative representations of the lived experience of doing autoethnography sets the book apart both methodologically and theoretically revealing how rigor and critical distance can serve to position autoethnography not only as a personal self development tool but a tradition and method in its own right Hyleen Mariaye Associate Professor Mauritius Institute of Education Mauritius This compelling book foregrounds autoethnography as an innovative and creative research methodology to generate reflexive sociological understandings of teaching and researching across disciplines in higher education Rich evocative and authentic accounts reveal unique possibilities for the transformation of teaching learning and research at personal professional and socio cultural levels Nithi Muthukrishna Professor Emerita University of KwaZulu Natal South Africa Towards Employment-Intensive Growth in South Africa Anthony Black, 2016-07-01 South Africa s high rate of unemployment 26.4% makes it a complete outlier compared with other middle income countries Indeed the unemployment rate rises to 36% if discouraged workers are taken into account It underpins extreme poverty and inequality and is a major contributor to social dislocation If it were not for increased social payments poverty would have continued to increase since the advent of democracy in 1994 Unemployment also represents a huge cost to growth This book focuses on the growth path of the economy The starting point is that while more rapid economic expansion is an important objective at any given level of growth the economy as a whole needs to become more labour absorbing The central question posed is how to bring about changes in the economic structure and pattern of development which would lead to the attainment of this objective The authors argue that employment needs to be much more centrally positioned within the economic and social policy arena They emphasise innovative approaches within a broader focus on the growth path and employment intensive growth And they posit that the negative impact of previous distortions requires much more than a levelling of the playing field via market based reforms Apart from presenting an alternative growth path which could start to shift the economy in new directions the book tackles themes which have received only limited attention such as wage subsidies youth unemployment and employment growth in rural areas The Statesman's Yearbook 2024 Palgrave Macmillan,2024-01-03 Now in its 160th edition The Statesman's Yearbook continues to be the reference work of choice for accurate and reliable information on every country in the world Covering political economic social and cultural aspects the Yearbook is also available online for subscribing institutions Debates of Parliament South Africa.
