The Status of Student Involvement in University Governance in Kenya Mulinge, Munyae M., Arasa, Josephine N., 2017-05-05 This book examines the concept of the democratization of governance in universities in Kenya with particular emphasis on students involvement in governance processes and decision making Data were collected from members of the student community utilizing a structured self administered questionnaire and from purposively selected key informants and focus group discussants drawn from Kenyatta University representing the public sector and the United States International University representing the private sector The guiding argument for the study was that shared governance one of the principles of good governance is critical in enabling the universities to deliver their visions and the missions effectively The results revealed that while in principle Kenyan universities have embraced democratic governance in which all stakeholders including students have a role to play in practice they continue to violate the core principles of good governance particularly shared governance Specifically students who are major stakeholders in university education are largely excluded from significant structures of governance thereby limiting their influence and participation Although their representation is mainly provided via student self governance organs unions associations and or councils their effectiveness is undermined considerably by the lack of trust and confidence of the student body and the unending manipulation by top university administrators and external political actors Student active involvement in decision making is mainly confined to lower levels such as the school faculty and departmental programme The authors call for a paradigm shift in the involvement of students in the governance of universities in ways that discourage the current culture of tokenism and political correctness that characterizes public and private universities in Kenya

Robert S. Dutch,2017-06-16 Have you ever wondered what it is like to work on a nuclear power plant Robert Dutch worked in the UK s nuclear industry for many years as a scientist and then as a tutor at a nuclear training center He also holds degrees in theology Drawing upon his qualifications and experience Robert addresses the controversial issue of nuclear power from a Christian perspective In contrast to a negative nuclear narrative often portrayed he presents a positive nuclear narrative alongside other ways of generating electricity Be prepared to be challenged to think seriously about nuclear s merits in providing clean low carbon electricity Legal Education in Asia Andrew J. Harding,Jiaxiang Hu,Maartje de

Visser,2017-11-20 Legal education systems like legal systems themselves were framed across Asia without exception according to foreign models These reflect the vestiges of colonialism and can be said to amount to imitating the style and purposes of legal education typical in Western and relatively pure common law and civilian systems Today however we see Asian legal education coming into its own and beginning to accept responsibility for designing curricula and approaches that fit the region s particular needs This book explores how conventional transplanted approaches as regards program design as well as modes of teaching are or are on the cusp of being reimagined and discerns emerging home grown traces of innovation replacing imitation in countries and universities across East Asia Improving a Country's Education Nuno Crato,2020-11-23 This open access book compares and contrasts the results of international student assessments in ten countries The OECD s Programme for International Student Assessment PISA released the results of its 2018 assessment in December 2019 This book reflects the debates that typically follow the release of these results and focuses on the causes of differences between countries Such causes include continuous decline in one country improvement combined with increasing internal inequalities in another country or rapid improvement in spite of an outdated curriculum in yet another In addition the book discusses a number of general questions Is knowledge outdated Are computers taking over and replacing teachers

Are schools killing creativity Are we adequately preparing the next generation Are schools failing to educate our kids The book starts out with a summary of PISA s evolution and PISA results and an explanation of the major factors that play a role in changes in countries results The next ten chapters are devoted to ten specific countries offering a summary of data and an explanation of the major drives for changes in education results for each one Each chapter includes a short description of the country s educational system as well as the impact of PISA and other ILSA studies on the country s educational policies The chapters also include a timeline of policy measures and main hallmarks of the country s educational evolution discussing the impact of these measures on its PISA results A final reference chapter explains what PISA is what it measures and how While highlighting the 2018 results the book also takes into consideration previous results as well as long term initiatives This book gathers the contribution of well known and respected experts in the field Specialists such as Eric Hanushek for the US Tim Oates for England Montse Gomendio for Spain Gunda Tire for Estonia and all other contributors draw on their vast experience and statistical analysis expertise to draw a set of rich country lessons and recommendations that are invaluable for all of those who care about improving a country s education system
