Explorations in Southern African Drama, Theatre and Performance Patrick J. Ebewo,2017-05-11 In spite of the rich repertoire of artistic traditions in Southern Africa particularly in the areas of drama theatre and performance there seems to be a lack of a corresponding robust academic engagement with these subjects While it can be said that some of the racial groups in the region have received substantial attention in terms of scholarly discussions of their drama and theatre performances the same cannot be said of the black African racial group As such this collection of thirteen chapters represents a compendium of critical and intellectual discourses on black African drama theatre and performance in Botswana Lesotho South Africa and Swaziland The topics covered in the book include amongst others ritual practices interventionist approaches to drama textual analyses and the funeral rites viewed as performance of the South African liberation icon Nelson Mandela The discussions are rooted mainly using African paradigms that are relevant to the context of African cultural production The contributions here add to the aggregate knowledge economy of Southern Africa promote research and publication and provide reading materials for university students specialising in the performing arts As such the book will appeal to academics theatre scholars cultural workers and arts administrators arts practitioners and entrepreneurs the tourism industry arts educators and development communication experts

Plant Adaptations to Phosphate Deficiency Alex Joseph Valentine,Alejandra Zúñiga-Feest,Aleysia Kleinert,Pablo Cornejo,Vagner A. Benedito,2021-05-18 Phosphate is an essential mineral to all plants and its availability in soils is an increasing challenge for agriculture Phosphate is abundant in soils but its biological availability is often low due to the complexes that it forms with soil minerals and compounds The biological availability of Phosphate is further reduced in acidic soils which represent approximately 40% of earth s arable agricultural lands Agricultural systems compensate Phosphate deficiency with fertilizers coming from the mining of rock phosphate which is estimated to exhaust within the next 50 years For these reasons Phosphate limitations in natural and agricultural ecosystems is going to become a global problem and we urgently need to better understand how plants respond to Phosphate deficiency

ITF Roundtable Reports Reversing Car Dependency Summary and Conclusions International Transport Forum, 2021-02-25 Managing the growth of urban traffic is vital for improving the liveability of our cities This report examines how governments can encourage citizens to use alternatives to private cars in order to reduce car dependency regardless of how they are powered or who drives them The report analyses fiscal policies and other instruments for managing urban traffic and correcting current policy biases that favour automobile travel over more sustainable and affordable transport options It also reviews international experience in co ordinating transport planning with land use development and in allocating space to walking and cycling in order to make transport more efficient and streets less congested

Facing homelessness Stephan de Beer, Rehana Vally, 2022-02-10 In Facing homelessness Finding inclusionary collaborative solutions we face the other and in facing the other we face ourselves This book contributes to an emerging body of knowledge on street homelessness in the South African context It is meant for researchers and scholars who are committed to finding solutions for street homelessness It offers conceptual frameworks and practical guidelines for a liberating and transformative response to homelessness It brings together authors from a wide range of disciplines fusing the rigour of researchers the vision of activists and the lived experience of practitioners In this volume the causes of street homelessness in South Africa today and its different faces are traced It critiques singular solutions and interrogates the political institutional and moral failures that contribute to the systemic exclusion of homeless persons and other vulnerable populations from society It proposes rights based interventions as part of a radical re imagination of how street homelessness can be ended one person and one neighbourhood at a time The analysis by the authors steers the direction of new ways of doing and being that could demonstrate concrete viable and sustainable alternatives to the exclusionary realities faced by homeless persons It argues for solution based approaches aimed at radical forms of social inclusion and achieved through broad based and creative collaborations by all spheres of society In the face and presence of street homelessness as one expression of urban vulnerability and deep socio economic inequality society is confronted with a clear political institutional moral and personal obligation This volume calls for a reclamation of community in its most inclusionary life affirming and interdependent sense asserting that we truly are well because of others and we are unwell if others are It is a call to reclaim our common humanity in the context of inclusive communities where all are equally welcome and bestowed with dignity and honour

Higher Education Pathways Ashwin, Paul, Case, Jennifer M., 2018-12-14 In what ways does access to undergraduate education have a transformative impact on people and societies What conditions are required for this impact to occur What are the pathways from an undergraduate education to the public good including inclusive economic development These questions have particular resonance in the South African higher education context which is attempting to tackle the challenges of widening access and improving completion rates in a system in which the segregations of the apartheid years are still apparent Higher education is recognised in core legislation as having a distinctive and crucial role in building post apartheid society Undergraduate education is seen as central to addressing skills shortages in South Africa It is also seen to yield significant social returns including a consistent positive impact on societal institutions and the development of a range of capabilities that have public as well as private benefits This book offers comprehensive contemporary evidence that allows for a fresh engagement with these pressing issues

Information Modelling and Knowledge Bases XXIX V.

Sornlertlamvanich, P. Chawakitchareon, A. Hansuebsai, 2018-02-09 Information modelling and knowledge bases have become ever more essential in recent years because of the need to handle and process the vast amounts of data which now form part of everyday life. The machine to machine communication of the Internet of Things (IoT) in particular can generate unexpectedly large amounts of raw data. This book presents the proceedings of the 27th International Conference on Information Modelling and Knowledge Bases (EJC2017) held in Krabi, Thailand, in June 2017. The EJC conferences originally began in 1982 as a cooperative initiative between Japan and Finland but have since become a world wide research forum bringing together researchers and practitioners in information modelling and knowledge bases for the exchange of scientific results and achievements. Of the 42 papers submitted, 29 were selected for publication here and these cover a wide range of information modelling topics including the theory of concepts, semantic computing, data mining, context based information retrieval, ontological technology, image databases, temporal and spatial databases, document data management, software engineering, cross cultural computing, environmental analysis, social networks and WWW information. The book will be of interest to all those whose work involves dealing with large amounts of data.
