INFORMATIONAL

TIME CHANGES: HOW ANIMALS ADAPT

As spring begins, the world starts to change. The days get longer, warmer, and plants begin to grow. Animals make changes, too. One of the things they do is adapt to the changes in their environment.

For example, many birds migrate. They fly from one place to another to find food and a safe place to live. Some birds migrate south in the winter and north in the summer. Others stay in the same place but change their behavior. For example, they might build a nest or lay eggs.

Animals also adapt to changes in their environment by changing their appearance. Some animals have thick fur in the winter and shed it in the spring. Others have bright colors in the summer and dull colors in the winter.

Animals adapt to changes in their environment in many ways. Some animals migrate, some change their appearance, and some change their behavior. All animals adapt to the changes in their environment to survive.
