

The background of the book cover is a complex architectural drawing. It features a top section with a grid of rectangular blocks, some shaded in light brown and green. Below this is a large, central section with a dense, repeating pattern of vertical and horizontal lines, creating a sense of depth and structure. The bottom section shows a more abstract, hand-drawn style with irregular shapes and lines, including a prominent orange-colored area. The overall aesthetic is technical and artistic, typical of architectural planning or urban design.

Debates in Translation Studies Susan Bassnett, David Johnston, 2024-12-23 Translation Studies has been an extraordinary success story which grew out of the work of a small group of international scholars in the 1970s and has become a global phenomenon As the field has rapidly expanded it has also diversified This collection of essays by world leading translation specialists sheds light on some of the major shifts in thinking about translation that are taking place today The authors here engage with the most contentious issues within translation studies and cover topics ranging from examining the scope for machine and human translation to develop together to addressing the role of translation in the age of the Anthropocene and considering how we prepare translators for the complexities of contemporary communication Written in an accessible and engaging style and with an emphasis on challenging orthodoxies and encouraging critical thinking this is essential reading for all advanced students of translation studies and literature in translation

Art Maps and Cities Gloria Lanci, 2022-11-25 This book presents an original study on how contemporary artists are exploring urban spaces through mapping Despite a long history of representations of cities in maps and the relationships that can be envisaged between art maps and cities in the contemporary world little research is dedicated to investigating how artists intervene in the realm of urban cartography The research examines a century old history of art maps and draws on academic debates challenging traditional notions of maps as scientific artefacts produced through accurate measurement and surveying The potential of art maps to construct personal narratives through contestation embodiment and play is analysed in the city context where spaces are shaped by urban planning and design political ideologies and socio economic forces Adopting an exploratory and interpretative research approach that investigates the confluence of theories originated in different domains this book conducts the reader to discover what artistic practices can bring into a more creative while inquisitive understanding of cities A series of semi structured interviews with visual artists enquiring how they apprehend process and re create urban spaces in artworks explores cartographic process and methods in visual art practices in the twenty first century which incorporates digital technologies and critical thinking

The Routledge Handbook of Translation and Culture Sue-Ann Harding, Ovidi Carbonell Cortés, 2018-04-09 The Routledge Handbook of Translation and Culture collects into a single volume thirty two state of the art chapters written by international specialists overviewing the ways in which translation studies has both informed and been informed by interdisciplinary approaches to culture The book's five sections provide a wealth of resources covering both core issues and topics in the first part The second part considers the relationship between translation and cultural narratives drawing on both historical and religious case studies The third part covers translation and social contexts including the issues of cultural resistance indigenous cultures and cultural representation The fourth part addresses translation and cultural creativity citing both popular fiction and graphic novels as examples The final part covers translation and culture in professional settings including cultures of science legal settings and intercultural businesses This handbook offers a wealth of information for advanced undergraduates postgraduates and researchers working in translation and interpreting studies

Third Space, Information Sharing, and Participatory Design Preben Hansen, Ina Fourie, Anika Meyer, 2022-05-31 Society faces many challenges in workplaces everyday life situations and education contexts Within information behavior research there are often calls to bridge inclusiveness and for greater collaboration with user centered design approaches and more specifically participatory design practices Collaboration and participation are essential in addressing contemporary societal challenges designing creative information objects and processes as well as developing spaces for learning and information and research interventions The intention is to improve access to information and the benefits to be gained from that This also applies to bridging the digital divide and for embracing artificial intelligence With regard to research and practices within information behavior it is crucial to consider that all users should be involved Many information activities i.e. activities falling under the umbrella terms of information behavior and information practices manifest through participation and thus methods such as participatory design may help unfold both information behavior and practices as well as the creation of information objects new models and theories Information sharing is one of its core activities For participatory design with its value set of democratic inclusive and open participation towards innovative practices in a diversity of contexts it is essential to understand how information activities such as sharing manifest itself For information behavior studies it is essential to deepen understanding of how information sharing manifests in order to improve access to information and the use of information Third Space is a physical virtual cognitive and conceptual space where participants may negotiate reflect and form new knowledge and worldviews working toward creative practical and applicable solutions finding innovative appropriate research methods interpreting findings proposing new theories recommending next steps and even designing solutions such as new information objects or services Information sharing in participatory design manifests in tandem with many other information interaction activities and especially information and cognitive processing Although there are practices of individual information sharing and information encountering information sharing mostly relates to collaborative information behavior practices creativity and collective decision making Our purpose with this book is to enable students researchers and practitioners within a multi disciplinary research field including information studies and Human Computer Interaction approaches to gain a deeper understanding of how the core activity of information sharing in participatory design in which Third Space may be a platform for information interaction is taking place when using methods utilized in participatory design to address contemporary societal challenges This could also apply for information behavior studies using participatory design as methodology We elaborate interpretations of core concepts such as participatory design Third Space information sharing and collaborative information behavior before discussing participatory design methods and processes in more depth We also touch on information behavior information practice and other important concepts Third Space information sharing and information interaction are discussed in some detail A framework with Third Space as a core intersecting zone platform and adaptive and creative space to study information sharing and other information behavior and interactions are suggested As a tool to envision information behavior and suggest future practices participatory design serves as a set of methods and tools in which new interpretations of the design of information behavior studies and eventually new information objects are being initiated involving multiple stakeholders in future information landscapes For this purpose we argue that Third Space can be used as an intersection zone to study information sharing and other information activities but more importantly it can serve as a Third Space Information Behavior TSIB study framework where participatory design methodology and processes are applied to information behavior research studies and applications such as information objects systems and services with recognition of the importance of situated awareness

Monolingualism and Linguistic Exhibitionism in Fiction Anjali Pandey, 2016-01-25 How are linguistic wars for global prominence literarily and linguistically inscribed in literature This book focuses on the increasing presence of cosmetic multilingualism in prize winning fiction making a case for an emerging transparent turn in which momentary multilingualism works in the service of long term monolingualism

Transculturation , 2016-08-01 Transculturation Cities Spaces and Architectures in Latin America explores the critical potential inherent in the notion of transculturation in order to understand contemporary architectural practices and their cultural realities in Latin America Despite its enormous theoretical potential and its importance within Latin American cultural theory the term transculturation had never permeated into architectural debates In fact none of the main architectural theories produced in and about Latin America during the second half of the twentieth century engaged seriously with this notion as a way to analyze the complex social cultural and political circumstances that affect the development of the continent's cities its urban spaces and its architectures Therefore this book demonstrates for the first time that the term transculturation is an invaluable tool in dismantling the essentialist genealogical and hierarchical perspectives from which Latin American architectural practices have been viewed Transculturation Cities Spaces and Architectures in Latin America introduces new readings and interpretations of the work of well known architects new analyses regarding the use of architectural materials and languages new questions to do with minority architectures gender and travel and from beginning to end it engages with important political and theoretical debates that have rarely been broached within Latin American architectural circles
