Internal Revenue Service,2008 Clean Up Your Credit! Richard Mansfield,2022-05-15 Bad things happen to good people Events not always under our control can often result in our credit scores going down and sometimes way way down There are consumer protection laws that you can use to remove negative items from your credit report Because of a quirk in the law you can as the author did remove items that really are yours But if you try to go it alone the credit repair journey can be a nightmare This book introduces a step by step credit repair system actual documents the author used to settle suits and legal cases filed in federal courts against major credit bureaus These are the credit repair secrets they really don't want you to know from someone who successfully challenged the credit reporting industry. Contrary to what you may believe, there is a way to improve your credit score substantially, and this book will help you get there. The author was a vice president at Guardian Bank in charge of the collection department and went on to start a collection agency. After selling the agency, he became a credit restoration coach. To prove what he knew in theory could in fact be done, he stopped paying everything: repossession, foreclosure, medical bills, student loans, and credit cards. He even filed for bankruptcy. His credit score went from over 800 down to 461. He had it back to 742 in five months. Mr. Mansfield walks you through every step of the credit restoration process. As a bonus, when you purchase the book, there's information on how to contact Mr. Mansfield directly. There is no other credit restoration book like this. Brilliant Personal Finances ePub Margaret Corridan, 2012-07-24. What does it take to get your finances under control? Publisher's Weekly Top 10 Fall Release in Business and Economics. A consumer credit industry insider turned outsider explains how banks lure Americans deep into debt and how to break the cycle. Delinquent takes readers on a journey from Capital One's headquarters to street corners in Detroit, kitchen tables in Sacramento, and other places where debt affects people's everyday lives. Uncovering the true costs of consumer credit to American families in addition to the benefits, investigative journalist Elena Botella, formerly an industry insider who helped set credit policy at Capital One, reveals the underhanded and often predatory ways that banks induce American borrowers into debt they can't pay back. Combining Botella's insights from the banking industry, quantitative data, and research findings as well as personal stories from interviews with indebted families around the country, Delinquent provides a relatable and humane entry into understanding debt. Botella exposes the ways that bank marketing, product design, and customer management strategies exploit our common weaknesses and fantasies in how we think about money, and she also demonstrates why competition between banks has failed to make life better for Americans in debt. Delinquent asks: How can we make credit available to those who need it responsibly and without causing harm? Looking to the future, Botella presents a thorough and incisive plan for reckoning with and reforming the industry. China Banking and Finance, 1992
