Inhabited by Stories Nancy A. Barta-Smith, Danette DiMarco, 2012-11-30 Intertextuality has signaled change appropriation adaptation and derivation It has focused readers on irresolvable questions of influence and origination progressive or regressive movement across continents periods and media Inhabited by Stories Critical Essays on Tales Retold takes a different approach What would a model of literary study look like that steps out of time's river and embraces not only the presence and proximity of the world to the senses but also of the past and the future to the present here and now When stories inhabit us imagination and memory extend our ability to see and feel Phenomenological experience is lived not just thought Such a perspective suggests that the past and future inhabit the present increase the depth of sensory perception itself and enrich the range of our affective and ethical responses Grounded in the lived experience of reading this perspective offers an alternative to an idea of intertextuality as simply following lines of influence and appropriation It focuses on the expansion of experience created by telling and retelling stories Ironically for literary theorists and critics perhaps the highest form of both praise and critique is a tale retold since such retellings attest to literature's instructive power and its perennial regeneration

Turning Points Ansgar Nünning, Kai Marcel Sicks, 2012-10-30 At times of crisis and revolution such as ours diagnoses of crucial junctures and ruptures turning points in the continuous flow of history are more prevalent than ever Analysing literary cinematic and other narratives the volume seeks to understand the meanings conveyed by different concepts of turning points the alternative concepts to which they are opposed when used to explain historical change and those contexts in which they are unmasked as false and over simplifying constructions Literature and film in particular stress the importance of turning points as a sensemaking device as part of a character's or a community's cultural memory while at the same time unfolding the constructive and hence relative character of turning points. Offering complex reflections on the notion of turning points, literary and filmic narratives are thus of particular interest to the present volume.
