Beyond the Ruins Jefferson Cowie, Joseph Heathcott, 2003 The immediate impact of deindustrialization the suffering inflicted upon workers their families and their communities has been widely reported by scholars and journalists In this important volume the authors seek to move discussion of America's industrial decline beyond the immediate ramifications of plant shutdowns by placing it into a broader social political and economic context Emphasizing a historical approach the authors explore the multiple meanings of one of the major transformations of the twentieth century The concept of deindustrialization entered the popular and scholarly lexicon in 1982 with the publication of The Deindustrialization of America by Barry Bluestone and Bennett Harrison. Beyond the Ruins both builds upon and departs from the insights presented in that benchmark study. In this volume the authors rethink the chronology, memory, geography, culture, and politics of industrial change in America. Taken together, these original essays argue that deindustrialization is not a story of a single emblematic place such as Flint or Youngstown or a specific time period such as the 1980s. Nor is it limited to the abandoned factory buildings associated with heavy industry. Rather, deindustrialization is a complex process that is uneven in its causes, timing, and consequences. The essays in this volume examine this process through a wide range of topics, from worker narratives and media imagery to suburban politics, environmental activism, and commemoration.

Log Home Living, 2001-05-01 Log Home Living is the oldest, largest, and most widely distributed and read publication reaching log home enthusiasts. For 21 years, Log Home Living has presented the log home lifestyle through striking editorial, photographic features, and informative resources. For more than two decades, Log Home Living has offered so much more than a magazine through additional resources, shows, seminars, mail order bookstore, Web site, and membership organization. That's why the most serious log home buyers choose Log Home Living.

Building Systems, 2000-09 Building Systems Magazine (BSM) is an award-winning United States-based trade magazine read by builders, developers, and general contractors using or considering using innovative construction technologies. Once commonly known as pre-fab, today's modern building systems employ innovative materials and techniques to create residential or commercial structures in a factory setting in a fraction of the time it takes to site-build. BSM focuses mainly on log, timber frame, modular panel, and structural insulated panel building technologies. Since factory fabrication and site preparation take place simultaneously, structures are finished and ready for occupancy in weeks rather than months or years as required by conventional site building schedules.
