Globalization and Labour in the Twenty-First Century Verity Burgmann, 2016-04-14 The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.tandfebooks.com> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 3.0 license Globalization has adversely affected working class organization and mobilization increasing inequality by redistribution upwards from labour to capital However workers around the world are challenging their increased exploitation by globalizing corporations In developed countries many unions are transforming themselves to confront employer power in ways more appropriate to contemporary circumstances in developing countries militant new labour movements are emerging Drawing upon insights in anti determinist Marxian perspectives Verity Burgmann shows how working class resistance is not futile as protagonists of globalization often claim She identifies eight characteristics of globalization harmful to workers and describes and analyses how they have responded collectively to these problems since 1990 and especially this century With case studies from around the world including Greece since 2008 she pays particular attention to new types of labour movement organization and mobilization that are not simply defensive reactions but are offensive and innovative responses that compel corporations or political institutions to change Aging and less agile manifestations of the labour movement decline while new expressions of working class organization and mobilization arise to better battle with corporate globalization This book will be of interest to students and scholars of labour studies globalization political economy Marxism and sociology of work

Global Maritime Military Strategy, 1980-2023 Keitaro

Ushirogata, 2025-03-17 This open access book is an ambitious study about how to use comparative methods to analyze contemporary military strategy in the maritime domain Based on the three strategic concepts of area denial sea control and power projection this book analyzes the intensive conventional capabilities of six major powers military strategies These include the United States the United Kingdom and Japan the so called sea powers and Russia China and India which are usually recognized as land powers Through the analysis this book aims to accomplish the following three main objectives

- 1 To reconsider the basic concepts of maritime military strategic studies which have not changed for almost one hundred years and to propose a new analytical framework based on the following three elements as well as verifying the appropriateness of this framework

a The capability with which a country can deny military threat against its territory through the maritime domain within the geographic theater i.e. roughly one thousand to two thousand kilometers from its coastline area denial

b The capability with which a country can obtain military superiority or disrupt an adversary's military superiority in the open ocean sea control

c The capability with which a country can project military power from the maritime domain to other countries territories accomplishing military strategic objectives power projection

- 2 To verify the six major powers long term military strategic objectives for example whether the country aims to enhance its power in the maritime domain or to project its military power to the other countries areas beyond the maritime domain to do this by analyzing each country's force
