2014 November Memorandum Of Tourism:

Tourism and Gentrification in Contemporary Metropolises Maria Gravari-Barbas, Sandra Guinand, 2017-06-14

Tourism gentrification is a critical shaping force of socio economic and contemporary urban landscapes This book aims to be the first substantive text on this subject explaining the multiple and complex relationships between tourism and gentrification and their outcomes and manifestations in contemporary metropolises This is achieved by drawing on in depth case analyses addressing the different issues at stake Part I deals with the manifestations of tourism gentrification and the ways it affects urban landscapes through heritagization and urban regeneration strategies Part II looks at the correlations between tourism gentrification and culture Finally the last two parts aim to identify and examine forms and expressions of tourism gentrification distinguishing among the actors beneficiaries and victims of the phenomenon while looking at its implications for intra metropolitan territories and metropolitan governance The book approaches these issues in an innovative way by looking at a variety of metropolises in a diverse range of countries and by dealing with the different relations and management issues generated by gentrification in relation to tourism Through interdisciplinary approaches this groundbreaking text sheds light on the role tourism plays in contemporary metropolises furthering knowledge of urban tourism For these reasons it will be of particular interest to scholars and students of tourism urban studies geography anthropology and sociology OECD Tourism Trends and Policies 2016 OECD, 2016-03-09 Tourism Trends and Policies published biennially analyses tourism performance and major policy trends initiatives and reforms across 50 OECD and partner countries providing up to date tourism data and analysis Film Tourism in Asia Sangkyun Kim, Stijn

Reijnders, 2017-10-13 This book focuses on film tourism the phenomenon of people visiting locations from popular film or TV series It is based on a unique Asian perspective encompassing case studies from around the pan Asian region including China Taiwan India Japan South Korea Thailand Hong Kong Indonesia and Singapore By focusing emphatically on film tourism in the non West this book offers a timely and crucial contribution to a more comprehensive understanding of the relation between film culture and place particularly in light of the increased volume of media production and consumption across Asia and the consequent film tourism destinations that are currently popping up across the Asian continent Marine

Transboundary Conservation and Protected Areas Peter Mackelworth, 2016-04-28 The marine environment does not naturally respect arbitrary international boundaries The establishment and management of transboundary marine protected areas therefore presents major governance challenges This book analyses a series of marine transboundary conservation initiatives embedded in varying contextual situations to examine the underlying reasons for their success or failure Utilising an adapted pathways of influence framework it provides insights into the development of marine transboundary conservation initiatives looking at the effectiveness of international rules international norms and discourse market forces and direct access to policy making Examples come from a wide range of jurisdictions including territorial seas continental shelves exclusive economic zones and areas beyond national jurisdiction Case studies include initiatives in the Coral Triangle West Africa Central America the Wadden Sea the Red Sea and the Mediterranean Sea In addition the authors assess the potential for developing wider international cooperation as a result of relationships forged through involvement within these marine transboundary conservation initiatives

Management of Training and Development in Hospitality Industry Archana Acharya, Handbook on Heritage, Sustainable Tourism and Digital Media De Ascaniis, Silvia, Cantoni, Lorenzo, 2022-02-04 Exploring the impact of the rise of digital media over the last few decades this timely Handbook highlights the major role it plays in preserving and protecting heritage as well as its ability to promote and support sustainable tourism at heritage sites Particularly relevant at this time due to the diffusion of smartphones and use of social media chapters look at the experience and expectation of being always on and how this interacts with heritage and tourism

The State and Cosmopolitan Responsibilities Richard Beardsworth, Garrett Wallace Brown, Richard Shapcott, 2019 This book explores the role that states might play in promoting a cosmopolitan condition as an agent of cosmopolitanism rather than an obstacle to it In doing so the book seeks to develop recent arguments in favour of locating cosmopolitan moral and political responsibility at the state level as either an alternative to or a corollary of cosmopolitanism as it is more commonly understood qua requiring transnational or global bearers of responsibility As a result the contributions in this volume see an on going role for the state but also its transformation perhaps only partially into a more cosmopolitan minded institution instead of a purely national or particularistic one It therefore makes the case that the state as a form of political community can be reconciled with various form of cosmopolitan responsibility In this way the book will address the question of how states in the present and in the future can be better bearers of cosmopolitan responsibilities

Tourism, Land Grabs and Displacement Andreas Neef, 2021-05-09 This book examines the global scope of tourism related grabbing of land and other natural resources Tourism is often presented as a peaceful and benevolent sector that brings people from different cultural backgrounds together and contributes to employment poverty alleviation and global sustainable development This book sheds light on the lesser known and much darker side of tourism as it unfolds in the Global South While there is no doubt that tourism has been an engine of economic growth for many so called developing countries this has often come at the cost of widespread dispossession and displacement of Indigenous and non indigenous communities In many countries of the Global South tourism development is increasingly prioritised by governments businesses international financial institutions and donors over the legitimate land and resource rights of local people This book examines the actors drivers mechanisms discourses and impacts of tourism related land grabbing and displacement drawing on more than thirty case studies from Latin America and the Caribbean sub Saharan Africa South and Southeast Asia the Middle East and the Southwest Pacific The book provides solid grounds for an informed debate on how different actors are responsible for the adverse impacts of tourism on land rights infringements what forms of resistance have been deployed against tourism related land grabs and displacement and how those who have violated local land and resource rights can be held accountable Tourism Land Grabs and Displacement will be essential reading for students and scholars of land and resource grabbing tourism studies development studies and sustainable development more broadly as well as policymakers and practitioners working in those fields

China's Footprints in Southeast Asia Ma. Serena I. Diokno,Xinhuang Xiao,Alan Hao Yang,2019 The countries that make up Southeast Asia are seeing an incredible resurgence in their economic power Over the past fifty years their combined wealth has reached the same level as the United Kingdom and taken together they are on track to become the fifth largest world economy But that stability and success has drawn the attention of the second largest world economy China The emerging superpower is increasingly involved in Southeast Asia as part of the ongoing global realignment As China deepens its influence across the region the countries of Southeast Asia are negotiating spaces for themselves in order to respond to or even challenge China s power This is the first book to survey China s growing role in Southeast Asia along multiple dimensions It looks closely and skeptically at the multitude of ways that China has built connections in the region including through trade foreign aid and cultural diplomacy It incorporates examples such as the operation of Confucius Institutes in Indonesia or the promotion of the concept of guangxi China s Footprints in Southeast Asia raises the question of whether the Chinese efforts are helpful or disruptive and explores who it is that really stands to benefit from these relationships The answers differ from country to country but as this volume suggests the footprint of hard and soft power always leaves a lasting mark on other countries institutions
