Routledge Handbook of Descriptive Rhetorical Studies and World Languages Weixiao Wei, James Schnell, 2023-05-12 The Routledge Handbook of Descriptive Rhetorical Studies and World Languages offers a useful collection of papers that presents rhetorical analysis of the discursive practice in different cultural settings. Covering issues from America to Europe and Asia and topics from politics to media education to science agriculture to literature and so on the handbook describes how language can guide listeners' interpretations, alter their perceptions and shape their worldviews. This book offers a solid foundation for rhetorical studies to become an essential discipline in arts and humanities, engendering innovative theory and applications in areas such as linguistics, literature, history, cultural studies, political science and sociology. This handbook will be crucial for students and researchers in areas such as literature and linguistics, communication studies, political science and arts and humanities in general. This book will also be useful to social science, education, business, law, science and engineering departments due to its coverage of rhetoric in a multidisciplinary and multilingual context. Chapter 16 of this book is available for free in PDF format as Open Access from the individual product page at www.routledge.com. It has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license.

Famines and the Making of Heritage Margu rite Corporaal, Ingrid de Zwart, 2024-06-05 Famines and the Making of Heritage is the first book to bring together groundbreaking research on the role of European famines in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries in relation to heritage, making, museology, commemoration, education and monument creation. Featuring contributions from famine experts across Europe and North America, the volume adopts a pioneering transnational perspective and discusses issues such as contestable and repressed heritage, materiality, dark tourism, education on famines, oral history, multidirectional memory and visceral empathy. Questioning why educational curricula and practices in schools and on heritage sites are region or nation oriented or transnational, chapters also consider whether they emphasise conflict or mutual understanding. Contributions also consider how present issues of European concern such as globalisation, commodification, human rights, poverty and migration intersect with the heritage and memory of modern European famines. Lastly, the book considers what role emigrant and diasporic communities within and outside Europe play in the development of famine heritage and educational practices and whether famine heritage is accessible to them. Famines and the Making of Heritage provides a crucial resource for museum and heritage scholars, students and professionals working on or with difficult or dark heritages as well as those interested in the study of famines and legacies of troubled pasts.
