Hedwig, 2017-03-07 Animals rely on sensory input from their environment for survival and reproduction Depending on the importance of a signal for a given species accuracy of sensory coding might vary from pure detection up to precise coding of intensity quality and temporal features of the signal Highly sophisticated sense organs and related central nervous sensory pathways can be of utmost importance for animals in a complex environment and when using advanced communication systems In sensory systems different anatomical and physiological features have evolved to optimally encode behaviourally relevant signals at the level of sense organs and central processing The wide range of organizational complexity in combination with their relatively simple and accessible nervous systems makes invertebrates excellent models to study general sensory coding principles The contributions to this e book illustrate on one hand particular features of specific sensory systems and on the other hand indicate not only common features of sensory coding across invertebrate phyla but also similar processing principles of complex stimuli between different sensory modalities The chapters show that the extraction of behaviourally relevant signals from all environmental stimuli as well as the detection of low intensity signals and the analysis of temporal features can be similar across sensory modalities including olfaction vision mechanoreception and heat perception Multisensory Perception and Action: psychophysics, neural mechanisms, and applications Zhuanghua Shi, Hermann Josef Mueller, 2015 The Psychophysiology of Action Sven Hoffmann, Markus Raab, Christian Beste, 2019-09-23 Observations on Certain Parts of the Animal Economy John Hunter, 1840 Geoengineering, Parts I, II, and III United States. Leib and physical body Koerper a distinction well known as body subject vs body object Hanna and Thompson 2007 The lived body is the body experienced from within my own direct experience of my body lived in the first person perspective myself as a spatiotemporal embodied agent in the world The physical body on the other hand is the body thematically investigated from a third person perspective by natural sciences as anatomy and physiology An active topic affecting the understanding of several psychopathological disorders is the relatively unknown dynamic existing between aspects related to the body object that comprises the neurobiological substrate of the disease and the body subject the experiences reported by patients Nelson and Sass 2017 A clue testifying the need to better explore this dynamic in the psychopathological context is the marked gap that still exists between patients clinical reports generally entailing disturbing experiences and etiopathogenetic theories and therapeutic practices that are mainly postulated at a bodily brain level of description and analysis The phenomenological exploration typically targets descriptions of persons lived experience For instance patients suffering from schizophrenia may describe their thoughts as alien thoughts are intruding into my head and the world surrounding them as fragmented the world is a series of snapshots Stanghellini et al 2015 The result is a rich and detailed collection of the patients qualitative self descriptions Stanghellini and Rossi 2014 that reveal fundamental changes in the structure of experiencing and can be captured by using specific assessment tools Parnas et al 2005 Sass et al 2017 Stanghellini et al 2014 The practice of considering the objective and the subjective levels of analysis as separated in the research studies design has many unintended consequences Primarily it has the effect of limiting actionable neuroscientific progress within clinical practice This holds true both in terms of availability of evidence based treatments for the disorders as well as for early diagnosis purposes In response to this need this collection of articles aims to promote an interdisciplinary endeavor to better connect the bodily objective level of analysis with its experiential corollary This is accomplished by focusing on the convergence between neuro physiological evidence and the phenomenological manifestations of anomalous bodily experiences present in different disorders
