Gregory's New York Brigade: Valgene L. Dunham, 2015-12-11 At the beginning of October 1864 the only equipment most Union soldiers near Petersburg Virginia needed was a shovel including Gen Edgar Gregory's new reserve brigade which was digging trenches around the besieged city Most of the brigade's volunteer members from New York had never fired a musket upon marching into the swamps and woods southwest of Petersburg But the dusty blue collar workers became a force to be reckoned with as they dug and marched westward to force Gen Robert E Lee to extend forces away from Petersburg Following the brigade's largest battle Five Forks the Union marched rapidly westward to keep Lee from joining Gen Joseph Johnston The brigade was selected to assist in the surrender at Appomattox Those acts alone would have solidified the brigade's place in history but its men also served as caretakers of the peace during their march back to Washington D C especially after the assassination of President Lincoln Gregory's New York Brigade deserves to be honored as much as those who fought in the major battles of the war Find out why in this detailed account of its well deserved place in history

The Last Generation Peter S. Carmichael, 2015-12-01 Challenging the popular conception of Southern youth on the eve of the Civil War as intellectually lazy violent and dissipated Peter S Carmichael looks closely at the lives of more than one hundred young white men from Virginia's last generation to grow up with the institution of slavery He finds them deeply engaged in the political economic and cultural forces of their time Age he concludes created special concerns for young men who spent their formative years in the 1850s Before the Civil War these young men thought long and hard about Virginia's place as a progressive slave society They vigorously lobbied for disunion despite opposition from their elders then served as officers in the Army of Northern Virginia as frontline negotiators with the nonslaveholding rank and file After the war however they quickly shed their Confederate radicalism to pursue the political goals of home rule and New South economic development and reconciliation Not until the turn of the century when these men were nearing the ends of their lives did the mythmaking and storytelling begin and members of the last generation recast themselves once more as unreconstructed Rebels By examining the lives of members of this generation on personal as well as generational and cultural levels Carmichael sheds new light on the formation and reformation of Southern identity during the turbulent last half of the nineteenth century Dr. Bob and the Good Oldtimers Alcoholics Anonymous World Services, Inc.,2015-09-23 Alcoholics Anonymous by its very nature could not have been founded by one person its essence is sharing Bill W and Dr Bob are always referred to within A A as co founders Having died in 1950 when A A was only 15 years old the Ohio surgeon may be less well known than the New York stockbroker his influence on the whole A A program is permanent and profound Filled with interviews with friends and family this deeply researched biography follows A A co founder Dr Bob S from his New England childhood to his days as a surgeon and father who couldn t stop drinking to his transformative meeting with Bill W and the birth of A A in Akron and finally to his untimely death in 1950 Inextricably entwined with Bob s life the early history of Alcoholics Anonymous in the Midwest is chronicled along the way With 26 archival photographs General Service Conference approved For A A history buffs as well as members curious to know more about the quieter co founder Dr Bob and the Good Oldtimers offers an inside glimpse into the inspiring life of this complex compelling character With 39 archival photographs Dr Bob and the Good Oldtimers has been approved by the General Service Conference of Alcoholics Anonymous Pacific Rural Press ,1898 Hopewell Ceremonial Landscapes of Ohio Mark Lynott,2015-02-05 Nearly 2000 years ago people living in the river valleys of southern Ohio built earthen monuments on a scale that is unmatched in the archaeological record for small scale societies The period from c 200 BC to c AD 500 Early to Middle Woodland witnessed the construction of mounds earthen walls ditches borrow pits and other earthen and stone features covering dozen of hectares at many sites and hundreds of hectares at some The development of the vast Hopewell Culture geometric earthwork complexes such as those at Mound City Chillicothe Hopewell and the Newark earthworks was accompanied by the establishment of wide ranging cultural contacts reflected in the movement of exotic and strikingly beautiful artefacts such as elaborate tobacco pipes obsidian and chert arrowheads copper axes and regalia animal figurines and delicately carved sheets of mica These phenomena coupled with complex burial rituals indicate the emergence of a political economy based on a powerful ideology of individual power and prestige and the creation of a vast cultural landscape within which the monument complexes were central to a ritual cycle encompassing a substantial geographical area The labour needed to build these vast cultural landscapes exceeds population estimates for the region and suggests that people from near and possibly far travelled to the Scioto and other river valleys to help with construction of these monumental earthen complexes Here Mark Lynott draws on more than a decade of research and extensive new datasets to re examine the spectacular and massive scale Ohio Hopewell landscapes and to explore the society that created them Boxing in Australia Grantlee Kieza,2015-10-01 This book looks
