12 June 2013 Human Geography Past Paper:

The Life Cycle of Clusters Dirk Fornahl, Robert Hassink, 2017-04-28 One size fits all cluster policies have been rightly criticized in the literature One promising approach is to focus cluster policies on the specific needs of firms depending on the stage of development emergence growth sustainment or decline their cluster is in In this highly insightful book these stage specific cluster policies are analysed and evaluated Moreover several chapters also focus on smart specialization policies to promote regional development by taking into account the emergence and adaptation of clusters and industries The War

Lawyers Craig Jones, 2020 Over the last 20 years the world's most advanced militaries have invited a small number of military legal professionals into the heart of their targeting operations spaces which had previously been exclusively for generals and commanders These professionals trained and hired to give legal advice on an array of military operations have become known as war lawyers The War Lawyers examines the laws of war as applied by military lawyers to aerial targeting operations carried out by the US military in Iraq and Afghanistan and the Israel military in Gaza Drawing on interviews with military lawyers and others this book explains why some lawyers became integrated in the chain of command whereby military targets are identified and attacked whether by manned aircraft drones and or ground forces and with what results This book shows just how important law and military lawyers have become in the conduct of contemporary warfare and how it is understood Jones argues that circulations of law and policy between the US and Israel have bolstered targeting practices considered legally questionable contending that the involvement of war lawyers in targeting operations enables legitimises and sometimes even extends military violence Perspectives on South Africa-China Relations at 15 Years Yazini

April, Garth Shelton, 2014-12-29 The year 2013 marked 15 years of the phenomenal diplomatic relations between South Africa and China The relationship between South Africa and China has been developing since diplomatic ties were established on 1 January 1998 Since then South Africa China's bilateral relations have undergone rapid and all facet development There were frequent high level and other kinds of mutual exchanges between the two countries The bilateral relations within the space of fifteen years have evolved from a Partnership to a Strategic Partnership and then to a Comprehensive Strategic Partnership Furthermore in the Comprehensive Strategic Partnership which was set out in the Beijing Declaration signed in 2010 the two countries expressed the desire to further strengthen and deepen cooperation in both bilateral and regional affairs by establishing a comprehensive strategic partnership based on equality mutual benefit and common development The agreements range from political dialogue trade investment mineral exploration manufacturing and agriculture to joint efforts in the global arena such as in the United Nations the Forum on China Africa Cooperation FOCAC and Brazil Russia India China and South Africa BRICS In recognition of the aforementioned bilateral achievements on 19 September 2013 an Ambassadorial forum was co hosted by the Department of International Relations and Cooperation DIRCO The Embassy of the People's Republic of China in the Republic of South Africa and the Africa Institute of South Africa Human Science

Research Council AISA HSRC The objective of the Ambassadorial Forum was to provide an opportunity for reflections on the past and outlook on the future diplomatic relations between South Africa and China This book presents the official keynote addresses which provide strategic thinking and foresight into the bilateral relations between the two countries The main substance of the book is a collection of the Ambassadorial Forum papers that were submitted The papers evaluate economic and political progress from a national interest perspective Progress is measured against variables such as trade growth people to people development partnerships and the implementation of state agreements all against the background of the theory of national interest Handbook on the Geographies of Money and Finance Ron Martin, Jane Pollard, 2017-03-31 The aim of this timely work which appears in the wake of the worst global financial crisis since the late 1920s is to bring together high quality research based contributions from leading international scholars involved in constructing a geographical perspective on money Topics covered include the crisis the spatial circuits of finance regulation mainstream financial markets banking equity etc through to the various alternative and disruptive forms of money that have arisen in recent years It will be of interest to geographers political scientists sociologists economists planners and all those interested in how money shapes and reshapes socio economic space and conditions local and regional development Missing Persons Karen Shalev Greene, Llian Alys, 2016-10-14 A missing person is an individual whose whereabouts are unknown and where there is some concern for his or her wellbeing In the UK around 250 000 people are reported missing every year with the majority being children under the age of 18 Despite the fact that missing persons are a social phenomenon which encompasses vast areas of interest relatively little is known about those who go missing what happens to them while they are missing and what can be done to prevent these incidents from occurring This groundbreaking book brings together for the first time ideas and expertise across this vast subject area into one interconnected publication It explores the subjects of missing children missing adults the investigative process of missing person cases and the families of missing persons Those with no prior knowledge or professionals with focused knowledge in some areas will be able to expand their understanding of a variety of topics relevant to this field through detailed chapters which advance our understanding of this complex phenomenon discuss what is unknown and suggest the best and most important steps forward to further advance our knowledge The State of African Cities, 2014 United Nations Publications, 2015-09-10 The African continent is currently in the midst of simultaneously unfolding and highly significant demographic economic technological environmental urban and socio political transitions Africa's economic performance is promising with booming cities supporting growing middle classes and creating sizable consumer markets Despite significant overall growth the continent continues to suffer under very rapid urban growth accompanied by massive urban poverty and many other social problems These seem to indicate that the development trajectories followed by African nations since post independence may not be able to deliver on the aspirations of broad based human development and prosperity for all This report therefore argues for a bold re imagining of prevailing models in order to steer the ongoing transitions towards greater sustainability based on a thorough review of all available options That is especially the case since the already daunting urban challenges in Africa are now being exacerbated by the new vulnerabilities and threats associated with climate and environmental change Tax, Inequality, and Human Rights Philip Alston, Nikki Reisch, 2019-04-11 In Tax Inequality and Human Rights experts in human rights law and in tax law debate the linkages between the two fields and highlight how each can help to tackle rapidly growing inequality in the economic social and political realms Against a backdrop of systemic corporate tax avoidance widespread use of tax havens persistent pressures to embrace austerity policies and growing gaps between the rich and poor this book encourages readers to understand fiscal policy as human rights policy and thus as having profound consequences for the well being of citizens around the world Prominent scholars and practitioners examine how the foundational principles of tax law and human rights law intersect and diverge discuss the cross border nature and human rights impacts of abusive practices like tax avoidance and evasion question the reluctance of states to bring transparency and accountability to tax policies and practices highlight the responsibility of private sector actors for shaping and misshaping tax laws and critically evaluate domestic tax rules through the lens of equality and nondiscrimination The contributing authors also explore how international human rights obligations should influence the framework for both domestic and international tax reforms They address what human rights law requires of state tax policies and how tax laws and loopholes affect the enjoyment of human rights by people outside a state s borders Because tax and human rights both turn on the relationship between the individual and the state neo liberalism s erosion of the social contract threatens to undermine them both The State of African Cities, 2014 United Nations Human Settlements Programme, 2013 Nairobi UN Habitat c2014 9789211325980 Knowledge-Based Economic Policy Development in the Arab World Driouchi, Ahmed, 2014-02-28 The Arab world is one of the fastest growing economies in the world In order to keep up with the ever progressing and expanding developments advancements must be made with the current systems process and procedures Knowledge Based Economic Policy Development in the Arab World focuses on knowledge economy as the most important engine for economic growth and development under the globalizing world economies This publication analyzes the major issues that constrain further access to knowledge economy in the Arab countries with comparisons in Eastern and Central European economies Researchers business practitioners and academics interested in new economic and development inclusive growth policies will benefit greatly from the wide variety of discussion in this publication Big Data and Learning Analytics in Higher Education Ben Kei Daniel, 2016-08-27 This book focuses on the uses of big data in the context of higher education The book describes a wide range of administrative and operational data gathering processes aimed at assessing institutional performance and progress in order to predict future performance and identifies potential issues related to academic programming research teaching and learning Big data refers to data which is fundamentally too big and complex and moves too fast for the processing capacity of conventional database systems The
