Joshua Russell

13 June 2014 Geography Paper :

The Gangs of Bangladesh Sally Atkinson-Sheppard, 2019-08-28 This book presents a study of street children's involvement as workers in Bangladeshi organised crime groups based on a three year ethnographic study in Dhaka. The book argues that mastaans are Bangladeshi mafia groups that operate in a market for crime, violence and social protection. It considers the crimes mastaans commit, the ways they divide labour and how and why street children become involved in these groups. The book explores how street children are hired by mastaans to carry weapons, sell drugs, collect extortion money, commit political violence and conduct contract killings. The book argues that these young people are neither victims nor offenders; they are instead illicit child labourers doing what they can to survive on the streets. This book adds to the emerging fields of the sociology of crime and deviance in South Asia and Southern criminology.

Foundations of Economic Change Andreas Pyka, Uwe Cantner, 2017-11-15 The book illustrates the considerable advances in modern evolutionary economics and addresses core questions of economic behaviour, interaction of heterogeneous actors in uncertain environments and the possibility of aggregating observations on a macro economic level. It presents the foundations of economic change as the major building blocks of an economic approach that focusses on complex processes driven by endogenous innovation as well as crisis. The theoretical considerations are complemented by econometric studies to demonstrate the relevance of evolutionary economic thinking to improve our understanding of the most challenging issues related to economic growth and development.

Urban Assemblage William Fourie, 2019-07-22 This volume was first published by Interdisciplinary Press in 2016. From subversive shop windows to moralising theme parks, Urban Assemblage presents eight diverse perspectives on urban space and culture. The volume spotlights cities as far afield as Johannesburg and Cork City to see how different cultures, media, mobilities and narratives come to form the spaces we occupy. It looks at the Tuscan utopia, the evolution of the hipster, the Neo-bohemian café culture of gentrification and breaking the rigid urban way of life through the fluid identity movement of Parkour. Not only is the subject matter diverse but the interdisciplinary spirit at the core of this volume elicits convergences and divergences, intersections and parallels by drawing on wide-ranging methodologies and disciplines. Urban Assemblage is an assemblage of eight different voices informed and cutting edge in their explications of various urban spaces.

Transport Justice Karel Martens, 2016-07-01 Transport Justice develops a new paradigm for transportation planning based on principles of justice. Author Karel Martens starts from the observation that for the last fifty years the focus of transportation planning and policy has been on the performance of the transport system and ways to improve it without much attention being paid to the persons actually using or failing to use that transport system. There are far-reaching consequences of this approach with some enjoying the fruits of the improvements in the transport system while others have experienced a substantial deterioration in their situation. The growing body of academic evidence on the resulting disparities in mobility and accessibility have been paralleled by increasingly vocal calls for policy changes to address the inequities that have developed over time Drawing on philosophies of social justice Transport Justice argues that governments have the fundamental duty of providing virtually every person with adequate transportation and thus of mitigating the social disparities that have been created over the past decades Critical reading for transport planners and students of transportation planning this book develops a new approach to transportation planning that takes people as its starting point and justice as its end
