Tsouras, 2011-10-19 It was in the Third World that the ambitions and fears of the two Cold War superpowers were played out v Korea Vietnam Egypt and Syria Afghanistan In their bizarre way these were carefully controlled wars carefully controlled in the sense that neither great power allowed itself to become directly engaged in a hot war with the other Equally neither allowed itself to go for broke in a grand sweep across the Third World in fear of provoking that final confrontation But this fear of direct confrontation was never as rigidly controlled as one would think Again and again events veered towards a clash between Eagle and Bear The authors of this book make real such terrifying possibilities as Korea or the 67 War dragging in both superpowers they predict the consequences of the United States or the Soviet Union attempting radical strategies in Vietnam or in a divided Germany either to follow the British success in Malaya or to invade the North they imagine the invasion of Cuba when the delicate signals failed to find a way out of the Missile Crisis and bring to life a scenario in which the Soviet Union knocks the Great Game off the board by using Afghanistan as base to bring down Pakistan and achieve its warm water port on the Indian Ocean Cold War Hot vividly brings to life these and many other alternate scenarios taking the reader behind the scenes at these momentous moments in history In showing what could have happened the authors show how precarious the Cold War peace actually was and how little it would have taken to tip the balance into World War Three

The Radio Eye Jerry White, 2009-11-17 The Radio Eye Cinema in the North Atlantic 1958 1988 examines the way in which media experiments in Quebec Newfoundland the Faroe Islands and the Irish Gaelic speaking communities of Ireland use film video and television to advocate for marginalized communities and often for smaller languages The Radio Eye is not however a set of isolated case studies Author Jerry White illustrates the degree to which these experiments are interconnected sometimes implicitly but more often quite explicitly Media makers in the North Atlantic during the period 1958 1988 were very aware of each other's cultures and aspirations and by structuring the book in two interlocking parts White illustrates the degree to which a common project emerged during those three decades The book is bound together by White's belief that these experiments are following in the idealism of Soviet silent filmmaker Dziga Vertov who wrote about his notion of the Radio Eye White also puts these experiments in the context of work by the Cuban filmmaker and theorist Julio Garc a Espinosa and his notion of imperfect cinema Jürgen Habermas and his notions of the public sphere and Claude Lévi-Strauss's ideas about the family as the defining aspect of modern culture This is a genuinely internationalist moment and these experiments are in conversation with a wide array of thought across a number of languages

The Racial Imaginary of the Cold War Kitchen Kate A. Baldwin, 2015-12-22 This book demonstrates the ways in which the kitchen the centerpiece of domesticity and consumerism was deployed as a recurring motif in the ideological and propaganda battles of the Cold War Beginning with the famous Nixon Khrushchev kitchen debate Baldwin shows how Nixon turned the kitchen into a space of exception while contemporary writers artists and activists depicted it as a site of cultural resistance Focusing on a wide variety of literature and media from the United States and the Soviet Union Baldwin reveals how the binary logic at work in Nixon's discourse setting U S freedom against Soviet totalitarianism erased the histories of slavery gender subordination colonialism and racial genocide The Racial Imaginary of the Cold War Kitchen treats the kitchen as symptomatic of these erasures connecting issues of race gender and social difference across national boundaries This rich and rewarding study embracing the literature film and photography of the era will appeal to a broad spectrum of scholars
