Social Representations, Health and Illness
Michael Murray, 2025-09-30 This book provides a concise introduction to the theoretical and methodological issues around the social representation of health and illness across the lifespan Moving from the traditional conception of health and illness as clinical entities to a more wide-ranging definition it considers the value of social representation theory in offering innovative insights into the popular understanding of health and illness and the interplay between individual experiences and broader socio-cultural contexts Through a combination of historical analysis and contemporary studies the book sheds new light on how people understand and engage with health-related practices It begins by considering the origins of social representation theory It then proceeds to consider the influence of socio-economic factors gender roles and cultural processes on social representations of health and illness and delves into questions such as How do children adults and older people's understandings of health and illness change over time What role do social class and gender play in shaping these understandings How do young people negotiate their health identities in the face of societal expectations and personal experiences It concludes by considering processes of change in social representations Integrating perspectives from health psychology social psychology and social representation theory and research this short volume offers valuable insights for academics interested in the intersections of health identity and society as well as practitioners working in health promotion and education

The Routledge Companion to Race in Early Modern Artistic, Material, and Visual Production

Nicholas R. Jones, Christina H. Lee, Dominique E. Polanco, 2025-05-30 This companion analyzes frames and provokes race in insightful ways that center non-white communities artistic and visual expression in the early modern period rather than presenting the bias of European artistic and visual depictions of the colonization enslavement and subordination of People of Color The organization of the book moves chronologically taking a conceptual and thematic framework This collection provides a spectrum of object-based case studies of artistic production objects and object types from six continents between the 1400s and 1800s Contributions take an art-historical approach characterized by a close analysis of form function and meaning with a particular focus on questions of cross-cultural dialog and provenance Additionally there is an emphasis on material culture The book will interest scholars working in African diaspora studies art history visual culture material culture Indigenous studies Renaissance studies musicology early modern studies decolonial studies and race and racism studies

The Imperial Dictionary of the English Language John Ogilvie, 1883 The Growth of Democracy in the United States Frederick Albert Cleveland, 1898 The African Origins of Rhetoric Cecil Blake, 2010-07-01 Through a critical analysis of ancient African texts that predate Greco Roman treatises Cecil Blake revisits the roots of rhetorical theory and challenges what is often advanced as the darkness metaphor the rhetorical construction of Africa and Africans Blake offers a thorough examination of Ptah hotep and core African ethical principles Maat and engages rhetorical scholarship within the wider discourse of African development In so doing he establishes a direct relationship between rhetoric and development studies in non western societies and highlights the prospect for applying such principles to ameliorating the development malaise of the continent

Katherine Mansfield and the (Post)colonial Gerri Kimber, 2013-09-16 Explores Mansfield s identity as a post colonial writer in relation to her foremost reputation as a European modernist In seeking new possibilities for alignments with and resolutions to the contradictory agendas implied by the terms post colonial and modernist the essays in this volume address the clashing perspectives between Mansfield s life in Europe where her troubled self designation as the little colonial became a fertile source of her distinctive brand of literary modernism and her ongoing complex relationship with her New Zealand homeland The contributors investigate Mansfield s post colonial modernism in the context both of New Zealand settler colonial fiction and of her European literary inheritance Affinities with writers such as Edith Wharton and Robert Louis Stevenson reveal that home can be a diasporic place combining alienation with belonging The volume also registers initial responses to the widened scope for Mansfield scholarship launched by the first two volumes of the new Edinburgh Collected Works of Katherine Mansfield Includes Previously unpublished poetry and fiction Reports of current research findings on Katherine Mansfield An introduction by Janet Wilson Professor of English and Postcolonial Studies University of Northampton Reviews of recent publications on Mansfield and her contemporaries

Rape Narratives that Paved the Way for #MeToo Marta Fernández-Morales, 2025-08-12 This book examines a decade of rape memoirs produced by English speaking women around the emergence of MeToo as a global phenomenon It argues that their auto biographical praxis opened a crack in the long standing wall of silence that the 2017 online campaign and its echoes still resonating today are systematically eroding Jana Leo Joanna Connors Roxane Gay Myriam Gurba Chanel Miller Jeannie Vanasco Eve Ensler Thordis Elva and other survivors helped set and reaffirm the bases for the current zeitgeist around sexual violence characterized by a tsunami of stories in circulation and a growing audience that is more ready than ever to listen to the victims ethically and empathically This volume offers an in depth analysis of a literary corpus that contributes to the conversation about the narrative politics of the fourth wave of feminism and some of its key preoccupations such as consent accountability and justice Of particular value for academics and activists working on against sexual violence as well as for life writing and gender studies scholars it can also be useful to specialists in the fields of ethics affect theory trauma studies memory studies cultural studies phenomenology victimology or ethnic and minority studies
